Many Questions On Foreign Policy At Conference

Spokesmen of Dominions at Empire Assembly in London Call for Light on Number of Points as Eden Speaks

Europe's Problems Engage Attention

Canadian Press
London, May 21.—For another hour this morning Foreign Secretary Eden continued to survey the troubled European continental scene for the chief delegates to the Imperial Conference.

The delegates met in the cabinet room at 10 Downing Street. Those from the Dominions had a number of questions to ask on points on which they desired light. The official communiqué issued at the session spoke of Mr. Eden's talk in the most general terms, but he contented himself, it was learned, with sketching British policy as already followed. He did not lay down any new lines of policy.

The Dominions have still to have their say, but it is not expected that on foreign affairs the conference will advance beyond an exchange of ideas, leaving to each Dominion the subsequent task of giving those ideas such practical application as it deems proper.

The discussion of foreign affairs will be resumed late today.

TIGER INJURES AGED MAN

St. Joseph, Mo., May 21.—While 3,000 spectators screamed, a tiger at an indoor circus reached out at H. G. Getchell, eighty-one, when he moved too near the cage last night and clawed the man severely before attendants drove the animal back with ten shots from pistols.

Vote Against Plan Of $3,000,000,000

Washington, May 21.—The United States House of Representatives tentatively defeated today a proposal of Representative Boileau, Progressive, Wisconsin, to appropriate $3,000,000,000 for relief in 1938. The standing vote was announced as 46 to 180.

DEER OPENING SEPTEMBER 11

Seasons for Big Game Hunting Announced Today

Open seasons for big game hunting in 1937 in British Columbia were made public today at the Legislative Buildings after approval by the cabinet.

On Vancouver Island, the deer season opens September 11 and closes November 30. The same dates apply in the Gulf Islands and in portions of the western district north of the fifty-first parallel. In other parts of the western district the opening date is the same but the closing date is December 15. Only bucks can be taken.

Other seasons in the western district are Moose, males only, September 1 to December 15 in Mackenzie district north of fifty-first parallel; mountain goat (except on Vancouver Island and north of fifty-first parallel), September 11 to December 15. The mountain-goat season closes November 30; bear, September 11 to June 30, 1938.

The bag limit for deer in the western district is three.

The regulations will be published fully by the game department.

Halibut Season To Open Later

Regulations of the International Fisheries Commission on the halibut fishing season of the North Pacific Coast for 1938 have been approved by the Canadian Government, according to word received today by George J. Alexander, chairman, from Ottawa.

The most important change in the new regulations, Mr. Alexander explained, is from March 15 to April 1 in the date of the season's opening. This has been done, he said, so cold storage plants will have an extra two weeks to get rid of their carry over. The quota of catch is set by the commission unchanged at 46,000,000 pounds for the whole area.

Youth Delegates In Montreal Today

PARENTS ARE SENT TO PRISON

Seattle, May 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and John L. Menfield were sentenced to not more than three years in prison today on perjury charges growing out of the marriage of the Palmers' fourteen-year-old daughter, Delta, last Valentine's Day, to Menfield, a thirty-eight-year-old negro.

Superior Judge Howard M. Findlay criticized them sharply, in passing sentence, for their parts in obtaining a marriage license and wedding the little schoolgirl to the garbage dump worker.

Mrs. Palmer was convicted of perjury in representing the girl was eighteen, and the men with aiding and abetting.

Nova Scotia to Vote June 29

People Will Elect Legislature; Premier Macdonald Back from London

Halifax, May 21.—The people of Nova Scotia will go to the polls on June 29.

Announcement the seventeenth Legislature had been dissolved and a date had been chosen for a general election with official nominations set for June 22, was made early today by Premier Angus L. Macdonald.

A special meeting of the cabinet was held last night immediately after the Premier had returned from the Coronation ceremonies in London, and the announcement followed.

The only other provincial election date now approaching is in British Columbia, where the electors will go to the polls June 1.

All members of the Nova Scotia cabinet were present at the special session last night, and it was learned preparations for the contest were well underway.

FIRST CANDIDATE

The Liberal Party has taken the first step in the election, Malcolm A. Patterson having been chosen as first candidate in the province. He was nominated at a convention in Marion Bridge last Tuesday night to contest Cape Breton West.

Opposition Leader G. S. Harrington had predicted before the special meeting of the cabinet there was "every indication the government is preparing to bring on an election as early as possible."

The Opposition leader, swept from office in August, 1935, by the present administration, declared the Conservative Party was ready in all circumstances. A declaration of policy would be made shortly and a complete programme placed before the electorate as soon as possible, he said.

Gestapo Preparing Report for Government While Support Is Heard in U.S. for Cardinal Mundelein's Criticism of Nazism

Associated Press
Berlin, May 21.—The powerful Gestapo, German secret police, began today to seek detailed information on German sources from which, it believed, Cardinal George W. Mundelein obtained the information for his castigation of the Third Reich's attitude toward the Catholic Church.

Reproductions of purported United States newspaper accounts, published here, said the Chicago cardinal had obtained his data about "immorality" trials of German Catholic monks and lay brothers and other material on the church-state situation from German residents, relayed through the Franciscan sisters in Illinois.

If the identity of any of these Germans can be established, it was learned, they will be punishable under a German law which classifies as treason the circulation of "false reports" likely to do damage to the Fatherland.

DEATH PENALTY

The penalty for treason is the headman's axe.

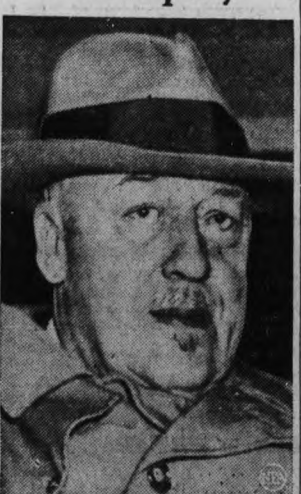

What is regarded as even more probable is that the state will move against organizations, rather than individuals, if it can establish what it deems to be culpability. Many religious orders own property which might be confiscated.

SCHOOL ACCUSATIONS

The controlled Nazi press renewed its broadside against United States Jews and Catholics today and demanded that the Vatican "call to order" Cardinal Mundelein. The outbursts were extended to include

Empire Troops Leaving Britain

London, May 21.—Empire Coronation contingents are breaking camp.
Six Royal Canadian Mounted policemen from western Canada districts departed yesterday with their horses.

"I haven't forgotten her," the Dean said. "What a plucky little woman she was!" During the black weeks of the Boer War, Queen Victoria told Balfour, "Please understand no one is depressed in Buckingham Palace." Dean Quainton said. She had a bond of sympathy with the common people. She made them feel that she was their mother and friend.

Her name was known all over the world, and the Dean told the story of the Kaffirs who wanted a missionary hanged for saying that God was greater than Queen Victoria.

Dean Quainton ended with a plea to the children to carry on all that was best in the British throne and the British Empire.

The service opened with the singing of O Canada by the children massed on the steps of the Parliament Buildings. Then W. H. Muncy led them in Kipling's children's hymn, "Land of Our Birth."

Following the address, the boys and girls sang "O God Our Help in Ages Past," and were led in prayer by the Dean. Then through lines of cadets, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, white clad standard bearers of the L.O.D.E. led a parade past Queen Victoria's monument.

Before the children of the various schools marched by and back to their classes, the youngest members of each school placed wreaths at the foot of the statue.

Music for the service was played by George H. Green's boys' band, resplendently clad in cloaks of blue and red.

Urge Inquiry on Alberta Dismissals

Edmonton, May 21.—A resolution requesting the immediate setting up of a royal commission under an Alberta Supreme Court judge to inquire into dismissals or forced resignations of ex-servicemen from the provincial civil service since August 22, 1935, will be presented to a meeting of ex-servicemen here tonight.

The resolution was prepared by a resolutions committee appointed at a protest meeting of ex-servicemen.

British Want Report On Radio Surprise

Millions of Listeners Deprived of Description of Naval Review Soon After Announcer Used Profanity

London, May 21.—British Broadcasting Corporation officials today launched an investigation of an incident which yesterday deprived millions of listeners of a description of the Coronation naval review at Spithead.

The announcer "covering" the review told his vast audience of the air: "The whole fleet is lit up. A minute or two ago there were 200 men o' war here. A magician has waved his wand and now there is no fleet here at all—no d— fleet at all."

Schools Honor Queen Victoria

Dean Quainton Addresses Children's Service at Parliament Buildings

The colorful and patriotic ceremony which was attended by 2,000 children from Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt schools, had added significance this year with the centenary of Queen Victoria's Coronation.

"All roads lead to London," Dean Quainton said, "and all our thoughts are toward London," but what a different world it was 100 years ago when "that little lady" came to the British throne. There was no bobbed hair, no visible silk stockings, no airplanes, no radio, he said.

Through the magic and miracle of radio the Coronation had been brought very near and made very real to people thousands of miles away, Dean Quainton said.

"Though it is a hundred years ago, I haven't forgotten her," the Dean said. "What a plucky little woman she was!" During the black weeks of the Boer War, Queen Victoria told Balfour, "Please understand no one is depressed in Buckingham Palace." Dean Quainton said. She had a bond of sympathy with the common people. She made them feel that she was their mother and friend.

Her name was known all over the world, and the Dean told the story of the Kaffirs who wanted a missionary hanged for saying that God was greater than Queen Victoria.

LIBERAL RALLY HERE TONIGHT

Hon. G. Pearson to Expound Labor Policies; C.C.F. Leader at Esquimalt

With a cabinet minister addressing a Liberal rally in Victoria, the national C.C.F. leader speaking in Esquimalt and ward meetings listed for other parties, tonight's political fare is widely varied.

The Liberal meeting to hear Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labor, will be held at the City Temple, starting at 8 o'clock. Speaking with Mr. Pearson, who is billed to explain features of the government's labor and unemployment policies, will be three of the candidates—Byron Johnson, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Aid. W. T. Strath, and A. M. Aitken. Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, also a candidate here, is on a speaking tour on the mainland.

J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., national leader of the C.C.F., arrived here today to speak for Don Smith, Esquimalt candidate, at two meetings, first in the Luncheon Hall and later in the Queen of Peace Hall, Esquimalt.

On Saturday, May 29, Mr. Woodsworth will speak in Victoria at the City Temple.

In the city tonight the C.C.F. will hold a ward meeting at Victoria West with all candidates speaking.

The Victoria Conservative candidates will also hold a ward meeting, addressing Oak Bay electors in St. Mary's Hall.

In Saanich N. W. Whittaker, K.C., Liberal, will speak at St. Aidan's Hall with Byron Johnson, and Leslie F. Osborne, Conservative, will speak at St. Martin's.

Early this afternoon, the Liberal candidates in the city addressed a meeting at the Palais de Danse building, headquarters of the Longshoremen's Association. Yesterday at lunch time the Liberals spoke to employees of the B.A. Paint Company.

J. Blackmore, M.P., federal leader of Social Credit, will speak for Mrs. A. C. Boydell in St. Paul's Hall, Esquimalt tonight at 8 o'clock. At Strawberry Vale Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

British Proposals for Armistice Reported Meeting No Opposition in Europe Now and Task Is to Arrange Details With Two Sides in Spain; Mussolini Stated Already to Have Informed Franco Italian Troops Will Be Withdrawn

Canadian Press

London, May 21.—Simultaneously with reports British proposals for an armistice in Spain were meeting with no opposition from Italy and Germany, Reuter's News Agency dispatches from Gibraltar today said reports were current there that Premier Mussolini had informed the Spanish insurgents Italian troops would be withdrawn from Spain.

The Associated Press quoted "well-informed diplomatic personages" as saying both Italy and Germany were now ready to join in general discussion of the British scheme both for an armistice in Spain and for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers.

Mussolini's decision to withdraw his troops from the Iberian peninsula, the Reuter dispatch said, was attributed to pressure of friends and families of Italian soldiers in Spain, of whom thousands have been reported killed in action, and to discouragement at the military stalemate there after ten months of fighting.

No Clergy At Duke's Wedding

Only Civil Ceremony for Ex-King and Mrs. Warfield; No Cruise Naval Escort

Monts, France, May 21.—There will be no religious ceremony to unite the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield, a spokesman announced tonight.

Herman Rogers, spokesman for the ex-king, made the announcement. He refused to say why the plans for a religious service, to follow the civil ceremony to be performed by Mayor C. Mercier of Monts on June 3, had been abandoned.

It was known, however, the Duke and Mrs. Warfield had been trying without much success to find an Anglican priest who would marry them in the face of the church's stand against remarriage of divorced persons.

Hugh Lloyd Thomas, minister plenipotentiary in the British embassy at Paris, was at the Chateau de Candee today, presumably on the question of a religious service. But Rogers would not say whether Mr. Thomas's presence had anything to do with the decision not to have such a service.

NO NAVAL ESCORT

The British Government was reported today by a source close to the Duke of Windsor to have refused him the protection of a naval escort for a honeymoon cruise down the coast of civil war-torn Spain.

The government was said to have turned down the request in view of naval incidents growing out of the Spanish conflict.

The original honeymoon plan was said to have called for the Duke and his bride to leave the Chateau de Candee on June 3.

LINDBERGH'S MAY RETURN TO U.S.

New York, May 21.—Speculation that Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh might soon end their self-imposed exile in England received impetus today from the words uttered by Thomas W. Lamont, banker and close friend of the flying couple, in a speech:

"I hope, indeed, that these two distinguished Americans will in due time find it possible to return and live their lives in the land of their birth and choice."

AT CONCENTRATION POINTS

The utmost secrecy is being maintained about its contents, but it is presumed to contain detailed proposals for concentrating the volunteers at various points in Spain preparatory to their departure from the country.

It was in view of these developments that British circles here received coolly and even with certain annoyance the Valencia government's demand to the League of Nations yesterday for a discussion of foreign intervention.

An airing of the charges of intervention now would only complicate the efforts to secure withdrawal of foreign volunteers on both sides, it was said.

Movie Stars to Visit Victoria

Freddie Bartholomew, Clark Gable and William Powell hope to visit Victoria this summer.

They said so to Charles Ramage of Regal Films, Vancouver, at a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer convention in Los Angeles recently.

"Freddie wants to visit his uncle in Hope, B.C., and then drop over here," said Mr. Ramage, who was in town today.

"William Powell told me that he was simply in love with the province," he added. "He is going up the island to fish this summer, and Clark Gable intends to do the same."

Mr. Ramage mentioned that Maureen O'Sullivan spoke very highly of Victoria, but he did not know whether she was coming here or not.

International Brigade to North Spain

Hendaye, France, May 21.—The Basque government at Bilbao announced tonight the central Spanish Government at Valencia had promised to send units of its crack International Brigade to the defence of the besieged Basque capital.

At the same time insurgent head-quarters on the northern Spanish front said insurgent troops had captured twenty-six Britons and several Russians in fighting near Munguia, northeast of Bilbao.

The International Brigade, from which units were promised, is made up of volunteer Britons, Russians, United States citizens and fighters from many other countries who began rallying at Madrid soon after the start of the civil war to fight on the side of the government. Insurgents, on the other hand, have been helped mainly by Italians and Germans.

YACHT REPORT

With these developments, there remained an unconfirmed insurgent report that a Basque refugee yacht, the Golska-Izarra, bound for France from Bilbao, had been set afire in the Bay of Biscay by an incendiary bomb.

However, the Bordeaux prefecture announced it expected the yacht to-night at Leveillon with 310 refugees. The prefecture had no word of the fire.

The official Basque delegation in Paris said the yacht, with women, old men and children refugees aboard but no officials or "jewels," was in the bay.

CONVOYED BY BRITISH

She was bound for Pauillac, France, with the refugees and was under British warship convoy.

An insurgent communiqué said the yacht was blazing "somewhere in the Bay of Biscay."

There were insurgent reports the ship was carrying 7,000,000 pesetas' worth of jewels and silver belonging to members of the Basque cabinet.

Other reports said the Basque Minister of the Interior and other fleeing Basque officials were aboard.

SAY PLANE DOWNED

A bombardment which followed a prolonged aerial "dog fight" was said to have set the yacht afire. During the clash, insurgents said, one government plane was shot down.

The communiqué said the Golska-Izarra was carrying an undisclosed number of refugees to England.

(A larger ship, the Spanish steamship Tabana, was selected to carry children from Bilbao to Southampton.)

Concurrently there were Basque advices that the British warship had offered to give sanctuary in England to Basque government officials, including Jose Antonio de Aguirre, the Basque president, if the fall of Bilbao to the attacking insurgent forces became inevitable.

COUNTER-ATTACKS

On land, militiamen went over the top today in a series of stabbing counter-attacks to beat insurgent invaders back from the city's last line of fortifications.

The counter-drives, launched yesterday with support of a squadron of government planes, were reported by the Basque defence council to have put Italian-reinforced forces of Gen. Emilio Mola to flight in the Munguia sector, nine miles south of the Basque capital.

FORTY-HOUR WEEK IN U.S.

Washington, May 22.—Congressmen closely in touch with labor matters predicted today the United States government's general labor legislation would seek to establish a forty-hour work week and basic minimum wage of 40 cents an hour.

The administration bill, to be recommended by President Roosevelt in a special message to Congress, will be introduced by Chairman Connery of the House labor committee.

Connery would not discuss details. But other members said provisions of the bill probably would be flexible as to take care of industries having labor problems peculiar to themselves.

The bill, they indicated, would set up a commission to work out details of the programme. They said the commission probably would have power to fix maximum hours in some cases of thirty-five hours a week and to establish minimum wages in brackets ranging up to a limit of $1.500 a year.

The bill was expected to provide a flat prohibition against child labor.

Shaw Writes
On AbdicationSays Edward VIII refused to Endure "Thousand-year-old Tomfooleries"

London, May 21.—George Bernard Shaw said today the real cause of the abdication of King Edward VIII was his refusal to go through with the Coronation ceremony and "its thousand-year-old tomfooleries."

The dramatist, giving his own theory of the abdication in a letter to the magazine Time and Tide, described the Duke of Windsor's decision to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield as "a diplomatic masterpiece."

Shaw referred to the Coronation symbols as obsolete because they "represent the King's investment with powers he no longer wields," and added in Shavian manner:

"The clothes used are the clothes of William the Conqueror and Queen Matilda transmogrified by generations of costumiers into fancy dress symbolic of nothing but the Russian ballet."

"(Transmogrified—a humorous coinage—to chance completely with absurd effect."—Dictionary.)

"If I were in the royal succession, I would renounce fifty limited monarchies sooner than go through such a ritual," Shaw wrote.

"I was not at all surprised to learn Edward VIII had flatly refused to endure its thousand-year-old tomfooleries, and that this and not his diplomatic masterpiece of marrying an American lady was the real cause of his abdication."

Salvation Army
Ousts H. W. MappBoard in London Dismisses Veteran Worker from Chief of Staff's Post

London, May 21.—A secret court-martial of the Salvation Army today dismissed Henry W. Mapp, seventy-year-old chief of staff, "for reasons of personal conduct."

Commissioner John McMillan, commander of the Salvation Army in Canada, was appointed to succeed Mr. Mapp.

Discharge of the white-haired veteran who has been in the Salvation Army for fifty years and has acted as its chief of staff since 1929, came after General Evangeline Booth, commander-in-chief, had insisted on a court-martial, composed of five senior officers.

INSISTED ON TRIAL

General Booth had the power to discharge any member of the great organization, but forced the trial, officers disclosed, "because she did not want it said she had eliminated a man whose influence in the army rivalled hers."

It was recalled that two years ago Mr. Mapp was General Booth's strongest rival for the post of commander.

The five-member court-martial agreed unanimously evidence against Commissioner Mapp was "conclusive," but the nature of the charge of personal misconduct was not disclosed.

Commissioner Mapp visited Victoria a number of years ago.

PARIS FAIR IS TO OPEN MONDAY

Paris, May 21.—Two monumental gates at the Bridge of Alexander III will be thrown open next Monday to President Albert Lebrun, followed by a procession of officials, who will march through, officially inaugurating the Paris World Fair of 1937.

The fifty miles of streets and midways are practically ready for the opening to the public Tuesday.

Canada's pavilion is among the many exhibitions on the banks of the Seine.

KING VISITS
BATTLESHIPSGeorge VI Also Inspects
Southampton, Britain's Newest Cruiser

Portsmouth, Eng., May 21.—Displaying all the technical knowledge and interest of a naval officer, the King today visited the flagships of the great British armada he reviewed yesterday.

Arising early, little Princess Elizabeth joined the King and Queen gazing at the long lines of war vessels partly shrouded in a morning fog. She was delighted when the sun, dissipating the mist, revealed gaily colored flags flying from the masts.

At 10 a.m. the King was taken from the royal yacht Victoria and Albert to the battleship Nelson, flagship of the Home Fleet and one of the most powerful units of the navy. He was received by Admiral Sir Roger Backhouse, commander-in-chief of the home fleet, who accompanied him on a detailed inspection of the vessel and its crew.

VISITED NEW CRUISER

Later the King inspected the battleship Queen Elizabeth, flagship of the Mediterranean fleet, commanded by Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, the Dpeditin, flagship of the reserve fleet, commanded by Vice-Admiral Gerald Charles Dickens, and the cruiser Southampton.

Other reports said the Basque Minister of the Interior and other fleeing Basque officials were aboard.

Concurrently there were Basque advices that the British warship had offered to give sanctuary in England to Basque government officials, including Jose Antonio de Aguirre, the Basque president, if the fall of Bilbao to the attacking insurgent forces became inevitable.

NEW TERMS TO FOLLOW VOTE

Pittsburgh, May 21.—The steel workers' organizing committee, having won the United States first major employee election under the supervision of the government, presented a collective bargaining contract today to the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

The contract was received by Chairman H. E. Lewis of the corporation at a twenty-minute conference with Chairman Philip Murray of the steel union, spearhead of John L. Lewis' industrial unionization drive.

Emerging from the conference room, Murray said:

"The meeting was very amiable. Mr. Lewis accepted the result of the election in good spirit."

The two leaders will meet again tomorrow when the contract possibly may be signed. It is expected to be considered first by counsel for the corporation.

BIGGEST YET HELD

The union labor forces of John L. Lewis won by a better than two-to-one margin in the balloting yesterday of 24,412 workers of the Jones and Laughlin Corporation in the biggest industrial election ever supervised by the government of the United States.

The result, announced by Regional Director Ernest C. Dunbar of the National Labor Board, was 17,028 to 7,384, with fifty-six votes void, thirty-one blank and ninety challenged.

No Clergy At Duke's Wedding

Cande immediately after their wedding June 3 for an automobile trip to Biarritz, French resort on the Bay of Biscay whose waters also wash the Basque coast of northern Spain.

After three days at the watering place, the couple were to cruise down the Spanish coast, through the Strait of Gibraltar to the Mediterranean and the Dalmatian coast of Yugoslavia.

The owner of the yacht which the former Edward VIII planned to use, had insisted on the naval protection. There was a possibility the Duke might change his honeymoon plans.

REPORT QUICKLY ENDED

A mild flurry was caused by the arrival at a Tours hotel of a Scottish clergyman named Ritchie. The report immediately arose that he might perform a religious ceremony for the Duke's wedding, but he quickly dispelled any such ideas.

"Is Edward in France," he asked. "I did not even know where he had gone."

YACHT REPORT

London, May 21.—Agents of the Duke of Westminster declined today either to confirm or deny reports the Duke of Windsor planned to use Westminster's yacht, the Cutty Sark, for his honeymoon cruise.

A source close to the ex-king in France indicated permission for use of an unnamed yacht had been withdrawn.

REPORTS DENIED

London, May 21.—The British public got its first hint today of a rumored dispute between the government and the royal family over attendance at the Duke of Windsor's wedding to Mrs. Wallis Warfield June 3.

The London Daily Express under a front page heading in bold type, "The Duke and Royal Family, Allegations in United States Press," produced in its last edition quotations from a number of New York papers.

The Express added strong denials that the stories of a conflict were true.

Other morning papers carried full wedding news from the Chateau de Cande, where the Duke of Windsor and his fiancée are guests, but did not even hint at any controversy.

Welfare Policy
Is Under Review

Ladysmith, May 21.—Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Byron Johnson, Victoria Liberal candidates, spoke at an enthusiastic meeting here last night in support of Arnold Platt, the party's candidate in Cowichan-Newcastle riding.

Mrs. Hodges discussed the attitude of the Liberal Party toward social welfare and labor matters, stating the present government had made great strides in this direction.

"The Liberals," she said, "have always been recognized as the party which treats the masses of the people fairly, and this is nowhere better typified than in the various enactments it has put through in this province to assist those of the less fortunate group of people."

Mr. Johnson spoke of the government's efforts to improve the condition of roads as a means of attracting tourists and building up the industry. He touched on the claim of British Columbia for better terms, saying that the government's representations to the forthcoming national commission would be of the greatest importance.

Power Plant for Northern Region

Trall, B.C., May 21.—S. G. Blaylock, general manager and vice-president of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., said today his company was considering plans and prices for a 6,000 horsepower power plant for Lake Athabasca region in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Mr. Blaylock said there was "nothing definite yet to announce."

CHARLES P. MEYER DIES
Newark, N.J., May 21.—Charles P. Meyer, a co-founder of the old Waldorf Hotel in New York City and author of the "Royal Cook Book" containing recipes of dishes served to European royalty, died yesterday. He would have been ninety-four next Tuesday.

Alfonso in Dispute
With His Eldest Son

Rome, May 21.—Former King Alfonso of Spain is reported reliably to have split with his eldest son, the Count of Covadonga, because he heard the count has renounced his renunciation of claims to the Spanish succession and has announced his intention of marrying again.

A member of the former king's entourage disclosed the breach between father and son.

Count Covadonga was divorced this month from Edelmira Sampedro, the Cuban commoner for whom he forfeited his royal rights.

Montreal, May 21.—A law dating back to 1864, declaring no one in Quebec province is liable to imprisonment for civil debt, was upheld in court yesterday when Mr. Justice F. J. Curran denied the petition of Dame Clemence Dachez that her husband, Louis Sorbonne, be jailed for failure to pay $25-a-month alimony accruing since October, 1935.

TELFORD SAYS
ROADS NEEDED

Penticton, B.C., May 21.—Good arterial roads were needed to connect the interior of British Columbia with the coast but there was little chance of such a road building programme under the present form of government, Dr. Lyle Telford, leader of the British Columbia C.C.F. party told a campaign rally here last night.

Vancouver, Penticton's largest market for produce, Telford declared, was destitute through taxation and this situation would definitely affect the whole interior.

The C.C.F. platform, he said, was similar to that adopted by the New Zealand labor government.

He advocated state insurance for automobile drivers — a compulsory policy issued with every driving license but at a sane and reasonable cost.

RULING SOON ON ALBERTA DEBT ACT

Edmonton, May 21.—The Alberta Supreme Court after a two-day hearing reserved decision late yesterday on the provincial government's appeal against a judgment of Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing declaring the Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act unconstitutional.

Closing argument, J. J. Frawley, K.C., of the Attorney-General's Department, contended the legislation was not ultra vires because it delegated authority to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council and argued the act had not interfered with civil rights outside the province.

Mr. Justice Ewing ruled the act ultra vires of the provincial Legislature because it was "interest" legislation, it interfered with civil rights outside the province and it conflicted with federal enactment. His decision on six test cases heard in Calgary was handed down February 19.

Her costume made entirely of British flags, a spectator proudly mingled with the Coronation throng that jammed London streets.

A Sea of Periscopes

When you're adrift in a sea of humanity, a periscope will give you a clear view over the others' heads. Apparently thousands in London had the same idea, for here you see a veritable sea of periscopes through which the throng in Trafalgar Square strives to glimpse the Coronation parade.

South Africa Is Ready For Defence

But Government's Policy Does Not Include Share in Any European Hostilities, Says Defence Minister

Capetown, May 21.—South Africa is ready to defend her own territory, but that is all, according to Defence Minister Oswald Pirow.

In a statement on the Union's defence policy in the House of Assembly yesterday Mr. Pirow said Great Britain "never asked us and, as far as I can see, never will ask us to do more than provide for our own defences."

"No more than that has been asked and, as I have repeatedly stated, the Union government has no intention of coming more," he added.

The Nationalist Party had objected to the expenditure of $5,000,000 on arms on the ground it would ultimately link up South Africa with any European difficulties that might arise in the future.

IN TIME OF CRISIS

"Does Great Britain take the attitude that we must assist her when she is in danger?" a Nationalist member asked Mr. Pirow.

"I have just told the House," replied Mr. Pirow, "that that matter has never been discussed and is never likely to be discussed, and I have repeatedly stated that we do not propose to take part in any general scheme of imperial defence. We stand by the policy of the old Nationalist government."

Mr. Pirow emphasized South Africa was not represented on any standing imperial defence committee although if matters concerning South Africa came up for discussion the Union received advice from such committees.

ASSISTANCE POSSIBLE

Dealing with the position of territories south of the Equator, Mr. Pirow said that not all British possessions, which disposed of the Nationalist complaint that the Union was co-operating in a general defence scheme for British territories in the north.

He assured the House there was no military agreement with any of those states, but, of course, should white women and children be in danger in any of those states from attacking native forces, the Union would naturally lend immediately what assistance it could.

A Nationalist member asked: "Why should not Britain, France and Portugal go to the assistance of their colonies?"

"Of course they will, but it is only natural that the Union too should render what assistance is possible," said Mr. Pirow.

Indian Prince
Dies in Paris

Paris, May 21.—Arrangements were made today for the funeral of the late Maharaja of Alwar.

The death of the fifty-five-year-old sportsman and prince of India occurred Wednesday in a Paris hotel. The Maharaja stumbled on a stairway while leaving a squash court last Saturday, suffering hip and shoulder fractures, and complications set in.

A secretary said the prince had divided his time between Bombay and Europe during the four years since Great Britain placed a financial controller over Alwar.

Alwar, a state of 3,135 square miles and a population of 750,000, maintains two regiments of infantry and one garrison force.

Higher Birthrate
Advocated in Reich

Wildbad, Germany, May 21.—Wilhelm Frick, German Minister of the Interior, promised workers and farmers yesterday they would get more money for more babies.

Opening the annual convention of public health officials, Frick declared the number of births under the Nazi regime had increased from 993,126 in 1932 to 1,290,000 in 1936.

"This, however, is merely the first victory over the unmarried state and childless matrimony," he said. "We now must aim for three or four children" (for each family).

Boy Refuses to Salute U.S. Flag

Expelled from Massachusetts School, He Acts As Sect Minister

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—Expelled from school for refusing to salute the United States flag, George A. Romard, fourteen years old, turned his attention today to his duties as an ordained minister of the "Witnesses of Jehovah."

The youngster, a "missionary" of the religious sect in nearby Somerville, revealed he had not saluted the flag with the other boys and girls in his class at North Cambridge since last Armistice day. He walked out of a school play "after I found out what my responsibility was."

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Romard, who came here from Nova Scotia, say he will be sent to the sect's "Kingdom School" if he is not reinstated. "I have not told my boy not to salute the flag," the mother said, "but I have let him follow the dictates of his own conscience."

Window Display
Attracts Notice

Much Interest in Clever Decorative Scheme at Munday's Shoe Store

Novel and artistic in design, the decorative scheme in the windows of Munday's Shoe Store, 1203 Douglas Street, is arousing much interest among passersby.

In the background in each window is a sea scene done in modernistic style—the one depicting an ocean liner, the other graceful yachts. Gaily striped awnings above the pictures and cleverly contrived palm trees carry out the suggestion of travel and holidaying in fashionable resorts.

Rope ladders add an additional nautical note to the general travel theme. Shoes appropriate for vacation days are displayed against this cleverly conceived background. Hand-fashioned shoes made by one of the biggest of the St. Louis firms manufacturing style shoes, and the famous Vitality footwear are prominently shown in handsome new models for summer wear. Vitality shoes are internationally known both for their beauty and the comfort that proceeds from their arch-supporting features.

Warming-up seed potatoes before planting them causes to sprout faster and produce higher yields, if they have been kept in cool storage.

TOURISTS TO SPEND MORE

Head of Canadian Travel Bureau Predicts Banner Tourist Season

Ottawa, May 21.—Canada will play host this year to the greatest volume of tourists in its history. An all-time high record was predicted yesterday by D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau.

"On very conservative figures," said Mr. Dolan, "tourists will spend at least $325,000,000 in Canada this year and probably more. This will exceed the peak of $300,000,000 in 1929."

"To date this year we have had 38,767 inquiries from people contemplating trips to this country. Last year at this time inquiries numbered 26,295 and the total for the whole of 1936 was 52,668. We should pass last year's total before the end of May."

"In May, 1936, tourists spent $225,000,000, an increase of about $50,000,000 from 1935. On the basis of our figures it appears this year will be about $75,000,000 better than 1936."

Not only will be the volume of tourists increase, Mr. Dolan said, but they will spend more. Economic conditions have improved and the character of the inquiries showed a greater proportion than last year were from people with plenty of money.

MORE RESERVATIONS

"Hotels, steamship companies and others catering to tourists all report reservations higher than in the past eight years," he stated.

"Requests for literature received here and at our outlets in the United States have increased so much it has been necessary in many cases to have reprintings."

"There is an increased volume of inquiries from every state in the union and it is remarkable how much 'repeat business' we are getting. Tourists who visited one part of Canada in past years are coming back this year to some other part, so all sections of the country are receiving the benefit."

There was a notable advance in inquiries in the fall.

While most tourists come from the United States, said Mr. Dolan, there was also a substantial expansion in visitors from the British Isles and Europe. In fact Canadian trade commissioners in all parts of the world were being asked for information about travel here. Many in the Antilles and the Far East were going to Europe by way of Canada.

Reception Held
For Candidate

View Royal and Colwood Liberals Honor Whitney-Griffiths

Gaily decorated with flags, streamers and bunting, Colwood Hall was the scene of a reception and dance on Thursday evening when the View Royal and Colwood Liberal Associations entertained about 200 people and had as their guest of honor, C.E. Whitney-Griffiths, Liberal candidate in the Esquimalt riding.

Modern, Scotch and old-time dancing was enjoyed by all. During the evening entertainment was provided in a clever tap-dance by Miss Thelma Stratford, recitations by little Miss Irene Thomas, and songs by Harry Craven.

Pipe-major Wishart, with the bag-pipes, provided music for the Scottish dancing. W. A. Walker was master of ceremonies.

P. Johnson of View Royal, on behalf of that Liberal Association, welcomed the guests and introduced S. R. Moore, who briefly referred to the long service the candidate had rendered the Esquimalt district. Mr. Whitney-Griffiths briefly replied to Mr. Moore's remarks and assured all present if elected he would serve them faithfully.

The ladies of View Royal and Colwood served refreshments at the close of the evening.

ORANGES FREE OF DUTY TILL JUNE 30

Ottawa, May 21.—Oranges from Brazil will come into Canada duty free from May 1 to June 30, Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of National Revenue, announced yesterday. It is estimated 200,000 cubic feet of oranges will enter Canada from Brazil during that period which at the regular tariff of 35 cents a cubic foot would have paid $70,000 in customs duty.

Under the Canada-United States trade agreement oranges enter Canada duty free from most favored nations from January 1 to April 30. Recently by order-in-council the period of free entry was extended to June 30 for all nations having trade agreements with Canada.

Brazil, however, does not come under most favored nation treatment, but Brazilian Consul-General Arno Konder of Montreal made representations to the government, which complied with the request.

The balance of trade between Canada and Brazil is heavily in favor of Canada. Of a total trade of $17,250,000 in the past five years, the balance in favor of Canada was $9,500,000.

OIL DERRICKS BURN

Huntington Beach, Calif., May 21.—Residents in a two-block area of this city were threatened yesterday evening by fire that destroyed two oil derricks. Two 500-barrel oil tanks exploded, throwing burning oil a distance of two blocks. Flames fanned by a stiff breeze swept into several acres of hay land toward another residential section, but were checked before they could do material damage.

War-torn Spain

DISPATCHES FROM EUROPE TODAY indicate that the warring factions in Spain will be prevailed upon by other powers to call a truce in order that domestic annihilation may be prevented.

It is suggested that Premier Mussolini of Italy has informed insurgent General Franco of Spain that Italian troops will be withdrawn from that war-torn peninsula. From the diplomatic point of view, of course, this is a gesture which should help to restore peace. From the military point of view it means that Il Duce realizes that Italian troops in Spain have done no better than they did at Caporetto. They were in their element against the primitive tribes of Ethiopia.

It was only natural that Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany quickly lost his enthusiasm for General Franco and his cause when he discovered that his Nazis could not depend upon Mussolini's Fascists to stand up in the field and do a real job of fighting—disgusting as it all is.

Out of this sorry mess now, however, there seems to be coming a ray of hope—that the warring factions will listen to reason from outside. But the tragedy of it is that some formula could not have been devised by the powerful nations of Europe which might have stopped the youth of Spain from cutting one another's throats—which might have revealed the light of reason to a populace which will wake up in the not distant future to a realization of the fact that it has, figuratively speaking, blasted itself back into the middle ages.

In the latest development, nevertheless, there would seem to be the beginning of a saner outlook.

An Expert Airman

IT HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED FROM Montreal that Wing-Commander Donald R. MacLaren, D.F.C., D.S.O., French Legion of Honor and Croix de Guerre, is to be included in the administrative staff of the newly-organized Trans-Canada Air Line.

Minister of Transportation Hon. C. D. Howe could not have made a better choice, for Wing-Commander MacLaren knows his business and will bring to his new duties ripe experience. This famous flier is one of four airmen who, in the Great War, between them, shot down no fewer than 230 enemy machines.

The last thing for which Wing-Commander MacLaren would want to take credit, however, is his part in that terrible conflict which cost the world so much in human life and material treasure. His interest in aviation is devoted to travel which makes for the contraction of the world—the bringing of peoples together in the quickest possible time.

Aviation, like the radio and other scientific developments of the post-war era, has contributed enormously to the cause of peace. Such a statement may appear contrary to fact. But it is nothing of the kind. Airplanes flown for the purpose of dropping bombs to kill human beings—true, being manufactured at the present time in their thousands—will go out of fashion before long.

The reason is obvious. A war in the air would mean the end of civilization, and one of these days, perhaps, the people who in the past have had to pay for and suffer from the filthy business of war will give their governments definite instructions that they follow policies which do not endanger international peace.

Power Fight in Quebec

HIGH FINANCE OPERATING UNchecked through the years saddled Quebec with electric power rates that towered high in comparison with the rates in Ontario. Public opinion finally showed itself aroused with the power issue assuming a place in the last provincial election, when the coalitionists who drove the Taschereau government from office promised to do something about it.

Premier Duplessis has now proposed rate regulation by a commission paid by the power companies and a government-owned Hydro system in a section of the sparsely settled northern mining country. Disappointment with this limited programme is being expressed as the big private power monopolies would be left in control of the populous parts of the province. Rate regulation, especially by a commission paid by the power companies, has proved inadequate elsewhere.

Public ownership advocates in the Quebec Legislature want a Hydro system patterned on Ontario's, with the expropriation of Beauharnois and other private projects to serve the populous areas. Duplessis has rejected such proposals. He declares himself in favor of public ownership, but "carefully studied" and introduced gradually. His critics say he is really opposed to public ownership. The Toronto Telegram declares consumers of electricity have little hope for his legislation. Unless he goes much further than it now appears he will, electric service at cost such as Ontario enjoys, is beaten at the start.

The fight against the power interests, however, will continue as the people of Quebec will not be content to remain at an economic disadvantage in this respect as compared with their neighbors.

Ties That Bind

A VISITOR FROM MARS, reading United States newspapers and listening to United States radio programmes recently, might have found cause to wonder just whose king was being crowned in London. Certainly, the Coronation of King George VI proved a matter of unusual interest to Americans; as many of them have admitted, they could hardly have been more absorbed in the Coronation than if their country was still a British colony.

The explanation is not simply that Americans are a nation of blind Anglophiles. It goes deeper than that. The simple tie of a common language, for one thing, is extremely powerful. The traditions that go with that common language—the sharing of things like Shakespeare's play and Dickens's novels and Browning's poetry—are even more powerful.

Underlying everything, there is the dim sense that in some way these two great nations do stand for a common heritage in the way of liberty and democracy. They cannot be indifferent to each other. The interest of the American people in the coronation of a British king is merely a roundabout recognition of that fact.

On Behalf of Dumb Creatures HISTORY INDICATES THAT AN accurate measure of the general enlightenment of any people is to be found in its attitude towards cruelty to animals. The extent to which any society is awakened to safeguard from wanton suffering the dumb creatures over which it has power is a key to the moral rating of that society in other affairs.

In Canada as in other countries of the English-speaking world the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has assumed the responsibility of keeping ever alive the public conscience in this matter. This organization with its educational and preventive work depends on the voluntary support of its members and the public for its finances. Its members have been generous in contributing time as well as money to sustain and further its work.

Tomorrow in a Tag Day appeal to be made by volunteers on the streets, the public of Victoria will have an opportunity of showing its sympathy with the work of the S.P.C.A. There should be no doubt of the contributions being willing and generous.

Royal Commissions

DR. PATTERSON AND MEMBERS of the Conservative Party he leads have been loud in condemning the cost of Royal Commissions. Yet we find Dr. Patterson advocating:

1. A Royal Commission to investigate the Hedley Amalgamation.

2. A commission of experts to advise upon obtaining by-products from coal.

Thus Dr. Patterson criticizes the Liberal government for appointing Royal Commissions, and in the next sentence advocates appointments of Royal Commissions wider in their scope and more expensive in their nature than any appointed by the Liberal government.

Apparently Royal Commissions are very desirable as long as they are named by Dr. Patterson and the Conservative Party.

An Idea Grows

THE IDEA THAT A FREER FLOW of international goods is essential if we are to see better political as well as economic conditions in disaffected parts of the world seems to be becoming more popular. Sir George Paish has been preaching it all through the depression. It is the theme Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada has introduced to a receptive Imperial Conference in London.

It has now been taken up at the convention of the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade of the United States and Canada meeting at French Lick, Ind. President W. E. Cephart of the association warned that civilization would go "completely bankrupt" unless world trade channels were cleared. Political and not economic considerations, he declared, have erected the barriers to world commerce. "The most disturbing aspect of the present situation," he said, "is the mesmeric spell that seems to have been cast by dictators and semi-dictators over their people. Democracy is in an eclipse."

But dictators, semi-dictators and even rulers of democracies must in the end rule by the consent of their people. When their people realize more clearly that their general well-being is not served by all these restrictions on international trade, the hypnotic spell will have been broken, and goods will flow again in greater volume to the benefit of all the people of the world.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NEAR BETHNAL GREEN.

A PASSING CRAFT

DOWN Bethnal Green way, in the endless labyrinth of dingy streets where the poor of London seem to live half on the pavement, half in their tenements, some of the finest furniture in the world is made. They make it by hand still in some of the older workshops, carve it as richly as the workmen of Tudor times, polish it and inlay it as if it were for the court of the Sun King.

Mixed with the smell of London—that curious, dry smell of horses, gasoline, old stones and people—is a beautiful clean smell of seasoned wood in these mean streets. But, alas, it is no longer the smell of oak, which used to be the very stuff of English life. England is going out of oak, the old furniture maker told us. It is going into walnut.

"A pity," said the aged man, peering at us over his spectacles in his littered shop, high above the street. "People won't 'ave it, that's all. They must 'ave walnut—walnut tables, walnut beds, walnut everything. Just fashion, sir, just fashion. But they'll come back again to oak, sir. Bound to. After all, oak is oak, isn't it?" With his rough craftsman's hand he stroked the sleek naked top of an oak refectory table that he was just finishing.

"Not many of us left now, sir," he said. "Everythink is machines now. They don't need craftsmen any more—cut 'em out with a machine, knock 'em together. Any navvy can do it. And the boys won't learn woodworkin' now. Takes too long. They'd rather drive a bus. Besides, they don't need us. Make it with a machine for less. Public don't know the difference and won't pay for 'and work. No, we don't get much work now, sir."

OLD ART

HE STROKED the top of the table again. It was a lovely piece of work, in Tudor style, and as well made as the best table in Queen Elizabeth's dining-room. The accumulated skill of English craftsmen, back a thousand years, was here in this tiny shop, among well-planned chunks of oak, among shavings and tools and the rich smell of carpenter's glue.

"It's a pity," the old man said again. "Nothing like oak—if it's seasoned properly, ten years at least. Ah, but they'll come back to it—and to 'and work. There's nothing like oak, you know."

England may come back to oak some time, but back to the wood out of which the very heart and character of this people is said to have been made, but it will be too late for the old craftsmen. They will be gone then. Meanwhile every second-hand store in London is littered with their work, with superb oak antiques which sell for a song, at prices which would drive the Canadian antique hunter more insane than ever. England is going in for walnut and for modernized designs—part of the American penetration of this civilization, via Hollywood.

WHEAT

WE LEFT the old man in his shop and went down to a private theatre on the Embankment to see a movie of the Canadian wheat industry which they are just releasing over here. It makes a Canadian almost weep with homesickness to see Toronto and Winnipeg and Vancouver and the mountains and the prairies again. "I mean to say," said the English lady who sat beside me, "Canada must be a most interesting place. But so close to the Americans, I mean. I shouldn't like that—or the snow."

It was queer to be looking at home while we could hear the thunder of the traffic on the Embankment. Made you think of the smell of fir woods and snow and baked prairie earth.

COMEDY AND SERMON

AT THE WHITEHALL THEATRE they have been playing "Anthony and Anna" for two unbroken years—a shiny, sleek and silly sermon on English life, but good comedy. St. John Ervine, who wrote it, takes himself pretty seriously in places and stops his play frequently to let the characters explain the morality, the leisured class and the inferiority of America. The grey-haired little woman who sells chocolates between the acts gives you a much better commentary on the current civilization of this island.

She is rather pessimistic about it, for her trade of selling chocolates, like the trade of working in oak, is in the midst of a grave depression. "It's cigarettes mostly," she says. "All the lilies is smokin' now and they don't want sweets. And if the truth was known, a lot of boys offer their girls a cigarette so they won't 'ave to buy 'em chocolates. Oh, yes, we see a lot of 'uman nature in our trade."

"Then, of course," said she, growing more confidential when we bought a shilling's worth of chocolates, "there's this rage for slimmin'. The wimmin are all afraid of a bit of flesh. They daren't eat a choicet for fear it will put a curve on 'em, if you please. Oh, I tell you, it's ruined this trade, smokin' and slimmin'. But," she added with the confidence of the old furniture maker, "they'll get over it. This won't last. Why, they're beginnin' to get stouter already."

Mr. Ervine, the author of the play, isn't so optimistic about the trend of English life. He makes one of his characters, an old head waiter, utter these immortal lines: "Democracy! Ha! I liked it better when a gentleman was a gentleman and give you 'alf a crown to show he was superior to you. Now we're all equal and they give you tuppence."

INSULIN FINDS NEW USE IN RELIEF OF ASTHMA

WARSAW.

Insulin, life-saving remedy in diabetes, for the discovery of which the Canadian researcher, Banting, is given the credit, has been put to a new use in the treatment of asthma. Results of this treatment are reported by Dr. Jakob Wegierko, physician-in-chief of St. Stanislaus Hospital here, in the Austrian medical journal, Wiener Klinische Wochenschrift.

By giving enough insulin to produce insulin shock the shortness of breath of the asthmatic is quickly relieved in most cases. After several insulin-shock treatments, Dr. Wegierko reports, the nature of the asthmatic attacks is changed. They are less severe, occur less often, or disappear altogether.

Insulin shock occurs when so much insulin is given that the amount of sugar in the blood is rapidly reduced below normal. The patient becomes very weak, has an unsteady gait that may be mistaken for a sign of drunkenness, and rapidly reaches a critical condition unless the shock is counteracted by a dose of sugar.

In using insulin shock for the treatment of asthma, the dose is calculated so that the amount of blood sugar is only reduced to about half the normal amount. As soon as the treatment has begun to take effect and the breathlessness has been relieved, a dose of dextrose or grape sugar is given.

Dr. Wegierko plans to try the effect of insulin shock in cases of gallstones, kidney colic and migraine headaches due to blood vessel spasm.

Unions Force Rise in Living Costs?

RICHARD L. NEUBERGER
in The New York Times
PORTLAND, ORE.

THE LABOR MOVEMENT is getting drunk with power. You can't impose your will upon the public forever. Many times he had declared that every strike would be won as long as he was mayor. But he also is extremely susceptible to public opinion, and back of his recent warning to the longshoremen is believed to be the resentment of the middle class and the white-collar workers over rapidly increasing costs in the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. Dore, formerly a staunch Conservative, has been actively partisan in behalf of organized labor in the past year. Many times he had declared that every strike would be won as long as he was mayor. But he also is extremely susceptible to public opinion, and back of his recent warning to the longshoremen is believed to be the resentment of the middle class and the white-collar workers over rapidly increasing costs in the Pacific Northwest.

Inexorably and steadily, prices have been rising in Seattle, Spokane, Portland and other cities in this region. Not long ago the barbers in Seattle announced that haircuts would go from 50 cents to 85 cents, and shaves from 25 cents to 35 cents. Other tonorial services have been raised proportionately.

In Portland, restaurant owners and beverage dispensers stated that unionization of their establishments compelled drastic price increases. Ten-cent glasses of beer have been trimmed down from twelve to ten ounces. Quarts of beer sell from 35 cents instead of 50. Meat orders that formerly cost 35 to 40 cents in restaurants and cafeterias have been raised to 45 to 50 cents. Coffee has gone up in many places from 5 cents to 10 cents.

The State of Washington in particular and the Pacific Northwest in general have long been strongholds of unionism. But the labor organization drives of the past few weeks, especially since the Supreme Court decision sustaining the Wagner Act, have been unprecedented even for this region. Beauty parlor workers, bootblacks, housemaids and almost every other conceivable line of endeavor have been visited by union organizers.

As a result, the prices of hundreds of items have soared rapidly. Even building costs have not escaped. Increased wage demands among the building crafts are claimed to have raised the costs of home and business construction.

At present more than 10,000 lumber workers in Oregon and Washington are on strike. They seek higher wages and union hiring halls. If their demands are acquiesced in, mill and camp operatives contend that the price charged to the consumer for staples containing wood will have to be increased.

The groups which seem most alarmed over these cost rises are the white-collar workers and the middle-class business men. Their wages and incomes have not gone up in any proportion at all near the price increases in the commodities they must buy.

OHLED ROADS AND TOURISTS

To the Editor:—I would respectfully call the attention of the provincial government, city officials and the councils of the adjoining municipalities to the fact that the tourist season is fast approaching and that unless they make haste they will be too late to give the visitors their usual treat of newly-oiled roads.

I am told that newly oiled roads make a lasting impression on tourists and emphasize the reputation of Victoria as "being different." In fact, I would like to suggest that new stickers be given tourists on arrival bearing the legend "Follow the oil to Butchart's Gardens and other points of interest." This might save them the trouble of trying to decipher the direction signs placed for their convenience by the Automobile Club, at present in many instances absolutely indecipherable.

It is little courtesies of this kind that make our visitors conclude that Victoria and vicinity are absolutely unique and altogether different from what they are accustomed to. The Publicity Bureau, while no doubt doing good work in the way of newspaper advertising, might, in my humble opinion, give more attention to making the city more attractive in the way of direction signs, better streets and roads and free and reliable information regarding the natural attractions of the island.

Those citizens who have had the pleasure of visiting California and other places in the south will, I think, agree with me that a great deal more could be done by those interested (which means everyone) right here in Victoria, to make the city take her proper place as one of the beauty spots of the world.

Better English.

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "My brother is three years older than me."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "malaria"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Bountiful, bouillon, boudoir.
4. What does the word "invincible" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with pro that means "offspring"?

Answers

1. Say, "is three years older than I (am old)." 2. Pronounce ma-la-ri-a, first and third a's as in ask un-stressed, second a as in lay (not as in care), 1 is in it, accent second syllable, 3. Bountiful, 4. Incapable of being conquered, overcome, or subdued. "It was an invincible army." 5. Progeny.

DIDN'T LIKE OUR CORONATION FIREWORKS

To the Editor:—For several years in the past the fireworks displays for our various celebrations were placed in the hands of a Coast company. Then about two or three years ago some of our local people were given charge of the displays and we had something worthwhile. I understand these orders for the past two years at least were placed in Toronto and arranged by local men. This year on Coronation Day we find the display once more in the hands of the Coast people and for over $1,000 we were treated to a miserable display of cheap rockets and one appropriate set piece. The whole display was very poor and lasted about twenty minutes. Aside from the fireworks the entertainment was splendid.

I feel sure that I am expressing the sentiment of thousands who turned out Wednesday night week and that those responsible should see to it that no more orders are placed with the firm responsible and that future displays are arranged by those who carried them out so creditably in the past two years.

DANGEROUS NEW DRUG

To the Editor:—You reported some twelve months back, The Lancet announced in England a new drug which gave confidence and ability.

The opinion is held that such a drug is in circulation here, and that it raises the passion 100 per cent. You can easily see the results to the health of the people from the use of such a drug.

Its fascination, to women especially, is so strong they cannot leave it alone. Complaint of sleeplessness is heard on every side, a breeder of insanity if ever there was one.

Social diseases of high percentage may be its results, and probably in the people are not in a position to vote for the removal of such a drug. It is for the government to protect the people against themselves by announcing this drug publicly and controlling it by law.

Would any sane government ask a drunken man to vote against the use of beer?

If a drug cannot bear the light of day, then it is madness and grossly unjust to allow it to be used in secret.

STRUGGLE IN SPAIN

To the Editor:—I believe the Spanish civil war to be a struggle between democracy and Fascism. This opinion is supported by the views expressed in such genuinely Liberal newspapers as The News-Chronicle of London and The Manchester Guardian.

THE BUTCHER OF MOROCCO

To the Editor:—Why should the world be surprised at Gen. Franco's refusal not to murder refugee children being conveyed out of Bilbao? It is a piece with his mass murder of civilians in Guernica and his spraying the streets of Madrid with shrapnel and anti-aircraft shells designed solely to kill people and not to destroy buildings.

It is of a piece with the reputation which made him notorious as "the Butcher" in Morocco even before the so-called rebellion.

Conservatives to Cease Borrowing

Dr. E. P. Patterson, Leader, Says Party Would Balance B.C. Budget on All Counts; Four Candidates Heard at City Rally

Discounting Liberal claims of governmental assistance in British Columbia's recovery, criticizing debt increases in the last four years and pledging Conservatives to a balanced budget with all expenditures except those on capital account paid out of ordinary revenue each year, Dr. Frank P. Patterson, provincial Conservative leader, last night spoke at a party rally in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Dr. Patterson centred his attack on what he termed the "brazen expenditure of public funds for party purposes," declaring "the people are through with the pork barrel system of using the public's money to influence votes of the electors."

The four Conservative candidates in Victoria and R. A. Wootton, provincial president, also spoke, and R. D. Harvey was chairman. Mrs. Florence Noel rendered vocal solos.

Dr. Patterson said the Liberals had mismanaged the affairs of the province with ill-considered and impractical legislation.

The Conservatives, he said, offered reforms on sound and logical lines, with no extreme promises that they could not fulfill.

He advocated a method of government-enforced co-operation between capital and labor, producer and consumer, employer and employee.

The cost of government would be cut by Conservatives and the budget balanced on all counts, he asserted.

RECOVERY
Business recovery in British Columbia had nothing to do with the Liberal government, he maintained, but was due to increased world trade, better gold and base metal prices, the European war scare and the Empire trade treaties.

He criticized Premier Pattullo for the assertion that British Columbia, as a young, growing province, could not develop without adding to its debt. Within the next five years the province faced maturities amounting to more than $100,000,000, which could never be met if the present rate of debt increase were maintained.

Per capita debt of the province today was $200, the highest in history and 25 per cent of it was due to operating deficits incurred by past governments. Half of the provincial debt had been incurred while Hon. John Hart was Minister of Finance, he said.

"Every million dollars borrowed lessens our chances of developing our resources and providing jobs for the wage-earners," he said. "What we must do is to restore the confidence of investors to restore prosperity."

Dr. Patterson suggested the Patterson government had had nothing to do with the $750,000 interim subsidy obtained by British Columbia on its better terms appeal. Premier Bennett, he said, had made up his mind to give British Columbia relief in this connection after making an independent survey of the situation "He told me that," said the speaker, "before the Liberal government got into its commuting stride to Ottawa."

He touched on Conservative proposals for a highway commission to remove roads from politics and to eliminate patronage in the civil service. Unemployment relief remedies had been left out of the Conservative platform designed, because they did not propose to make it a political football, he said. They believed the Dominion should take responsibility, but until then the province should look after all the wants of the unemployed.

F. A. WILLIS
Frederick A. Willis said the Conservatives had a platform of fifteen planks, copies of which had been distributed as an answer to the criticism that the party had no constructive ideas. This platform was the considered opinion of all Conservatives, he declared.

He dealt particularly with the party's proposal for a highway commission, a group of experts competent to lay out a systematic system of roads. They must be divorced from party politics, he said. Likewise the Conservatives proposed to remove the civil service from politics and establish it on the basis of Great Britain.

B. A. McKELVIE
Bruce A. McKelvie, introduced as "Pinkie," ridiculed Liberal election tactics and said that Premier Pattullo's election announcement contained only two lines relative officially to the election, the rest being propaganda of the Liberal party, but all paid for by the public treasury.

He criticized the employment for ten months of Major S. F. M. Moodie, Liberal organizer, as assistant to the Premier, at a cost of $5,665 to the taxpayers. Public funds were also used to pay for Premier Pattullo's broadcasts and for advertisements at Coronation time, he said.

The variety of experts hired by the government "here, there and everywhere," was just like "Old MacDonald's Farm," he said.

Mr. McKelvie repeated his former assertion, that the Minister of Finance should either resign or be dismissed as a result of the Hedley Amalgamated report.

ALD. J. D. HUNTER
Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter charged the Liberal government with failing to fulfill most of its promises, especially those of "work and wages" and aid to municipalities. Victoria, he said, could get along in a fine way if it could get its provincial grants restored.

After five years on the City Council he was fully aware of the problem and something must be done to protect taxpayers from losing their property. Since 1930 the added burden on the city had been $329,000 per year. Premier Pattullo, he alleged, had "slammed the door" in the face of municipal representatives who went to see him.

Dr. Hunter said Dr. Weir was to blame for health insurance becoming a political issue. The handling of the measure in the House was a piece of political incompetency. Health insurance was needed, he said, but should take care of everyone, including indigents.

"I am sure that Dr. Patterson agrees we should have health insurance applying to all sections of the community," he declared.

HERBERT ANSCOMB
Herbert Anscomb charged the Liberals with wanton extravagance and broken promises. The C.C.F. with representing Communism, the B.C. Constructives with representing Socialism, while the Conservatives offered a sane middle road of government.

The Conservatives, he admitted, had not cut the cost of government previously, but would do so this term, starting at the top and working down.

"And some of us are going to vote ourselves out of the Legislature, by cutting the size of the House and reducing the cabinet to six ministers," he said. The cost of the government's coal commission so far was $79,000 and of the health commission $85,000. The economic council had cost $20,000 for two years and $16,000 for the last year. All these things would be eliminated by a Conservative government.

Mr. Anscomb claimed that the debt of the province had increased from $165,000,000 to $200,000,000 since the present government took office. He said the Liberals over the last twenty years, were responsible for $90,000,000 of this debt.

The Conservatives, said Mr. Anscomb, gave a definite pledge of a completely balanced budget immediately, paying for both relief and sinking funds out of ordinary revenue, without a dollar of increase in debt.

REGAL ROBES DRAW CROWDS
Coronation Display in David Spencer's Window on Douglas Street

A remarkable exhibition of Coronation robes and accoutrements is drawing crowds to the windows of David Spencer Limited on the corner of Douglas and View Streets.

In the display there are three costumed figures—the King and Queen in full Coronation robes with long trains of purple velvet and ermine, and a scarlet clad befeathered.

Between the royal figures is a replica of the ancient Coronation chair with the famous stone of Scone in evidence underneath the seat. Copies of the Coronation jewels, including the royal crowns, sceptres, swords and spurs which were used in the ceremony, are on view.

The beautiful robes on the figures of the King and Queen were made in Spencer's workshops, and the Coronation chair was secured through the company's London office.

Letters To The Editor

VICTORIA'S SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

To the Editor:—The Minister of Finance has said: "It is fitting that the capital of our great province should observe this anniversary in an appropriate manner." What more appropriate means of celebration could be found than the alleviation of human distress?

It is the eighth anniversary of relief disbursements in the city of Victoria and the cost of living is increasing daily, placing additional burdens, both mental and physical, on those who are every day sinking nearer the starvation level.

How better could our Jubilee be celebrated than in using this grant of $25,000, or the major part of it, in helping those less fortunate than ourselves, so that there may be a genuine rejoicing in our city, and not, as on former occasions, fireworks throwing hundreds of dollars into the sea for the entertainment of the general public, including the unemployed, who get a free seat to enjoy the exquisite sight of possible sacks of flour, sugar, fruits and vegetables floating aloft and curving gracefully into the sea. A Roman holiday indeed.

If every responsible citizen in Victoria were asked to choose between "fireworks" or necessities of life for their fellow-citizens in distress, they would surely vote for the latter—or else, in my opinion, the city is not worthy of a Jubilee celebration at all.

DEBT MONEY

To the Editor:—Money is anything which is generally and readily accepted in payment of debt. Originally, everywhere, it consisted of cattle, beads, corn, fish, tobacco, or the like. Finally, gold and silver were adopted as money by the leading nations. But the quantity of them was very limited. For century after century, before the discovery of America, economic progress was continually hampered by the dearth of money. Our banking system is of very recent growth. "In the course of not more than two centuries," says Dr. F. D. Graham, "the world has passed through a monetary revolution."

Its crowning achievement was the invention of "debt-money" or bank credit. By this means, it was possible to multiply the money supply of mankind, eventually from ten to twenty-fold. Inherently, bank credit need not have any physical existence. Dr. F. Soddy has described it as "an effort of the imagination." It vanishes into nothingness again, when the bank loan, which gave birth to it, is repaid. In spite of this, so long as the money-circle is completed (and the interest on the loan finally forms part of the stream of expenditures) bank credit seems to fulfill the function of "medium of exchange" effectively.

Invaluable, however, as this debt-money may be, every enterpriser rightly regards it as a liability, not as an asset. Naturally, he desires to increase his "physical" resources; to enlarge his premises and plant; to expand his sales and stock-in-trade. This is quite possible.

The only limits to the accumulation of "physical" wealth are the skill, industry and thrift of the people, and the usefulness of the resultant product. But that, of itself, is not enough. The enterpriser (like every "saving" individual) wants also to increase his "financial" resources; to improve his liquid position; to accumulate a "store of value" in the form of "owned money." An increased overdraft or line of credit is all right in its way. But far better is it to possess a fund of "owned money" of one's very own. It is not an increase of debt, but an increase of ownership, that he supremely craves. The place of "owned money" can never be filled by "debt-money"—a fact which seems to be insufficiently recognized.

Now how could all of our enterprisers and "savers" attain this natural and reasonable ambition? In short, where is the money to come from, for all those individual holdings of "owned money?"

POLITICAL MULLIGAN

To the Editor:—The electors of Victoria have before them the greatest political mulligan in history—Liberals, Conservatives, C.C.F., social quacks and the currency jugglers. But not one of these parties have any solution to offer the workers.

One aspect of this mulligan is the lack of the C.C.F. to even give lip service to Socialism, whose leaders now claim they stand for public ownership or co-operative societies.

I can now understand why the Conservative leader appealed to the above to form another united front, as he knows there is no danger to the system in Sweden or New Zealand which the C.C.F. advocate here, there are no principles involved to stop them joining the Conservatives. However, I have received an article written by a worker in New Zealand, and think it best to let him speak of the conditions existing there himself:

"The first act of Mr. Savage was to assure the people that the sacred rights of property would be strictly the year does not count. The unemployed a bonus at Christmas in the form of a week's pay so they may enjoy a good Christmas. The rest of the year does not count, the unemployed inquisition board on relief applications was abolished as promised, but the inquisition still persists. A means test is still applied, though they denounced the last government for same. The state has now control of the reserve bank by purchasing the shares of the private shareholders at the highest market price."

"The Hon. R. Semple's policy for public works is an example of how the Labor government can obtain a greater amount of surplus value from the hides of the workers in a more highly efficient manner—the co-operative system of work. This system of work has been bitterly fought by the Miners' Federation for many years. The question is: Can the capitalist and the workers co-operate in common interest? An understanding of the position of these individuals in society proves the opposite. Legislation has been rushed through in record time, but none of it will in any way alter the fundamental position of the workers of New Zealand."

The above quotations, direct from New Zealand, show clearly the workers there are still exploited under a Labor government. Let us look for a moment at the C.C.F. public ownership in operation. We have had a government monopoly as advocated by the above in operation several years in London in the Public Transport Board, and what do we find? All the bus men striking for better conditions. As one bus man said, he was driven to hard he needed wings on his route. They even ask time to eat. Also take a look at the workers in the government post office anywhere. Let me ask the worker—is this what you are fighting for? Exploitation in the worse form yet known is what they offer.

Any of these political parties may bring in all the reforms they wish, they cannot alter the worker's position in any way whatsoever. So long as private ownership of the means of production exist, slaves we must remain. When the workers show a desire to study and understand Socialism, then, and then only, will we be able to abolish wage slavery and institute production for use and not for profit. Anything short of this is useless.

DUNCAN GOLF

Duncan, May 21.—Miss J. Duncan was the winner of the bogey competition played on the links at Duncan on Wednesday afternoon, with a score of 5 up. Others taking part were Mrs. F. G. Aldersey, Mrs. C. C. Wright, Mrs. J. Longbourne, Mrs. Boyd-Wallis, Mrs. W. Prest, Mrs. R. S. Ross and Miss Dora Peterson. Next Wednesday the May medal competition will be played.

Wherever you drive ...

4000 MILES IN FIVE HRS 500-400-60

It's the Costliest kind of driving you do!

How far can you drive without making a stop? One block? Two blocks? How far?

If you're an average motorist, you put on your brakes and come to a halt thirty times a day!

And every time you start up, you can use enough gasoline to take you a third of a mile! You can waste enough every day to drive ten miles.

To reduce the waste of stop-and-go driving, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This unique balancing process rearranges the entire chemical structure of gasoline... makes Super-Shell "digestible" for your motor, just as cooking will make some foods digestible for you.

When you're starting, shifting, accelerating... at all times, your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

And you get the savings! The next time you need gasoline, try Super-Shell. It's on sale at the Shell dealer in your neighborhood.

St. Andrew's Scene Of Wedding

Scafe-Mitchell
Nuptials At Pretty Ceremony

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was beautifully decorated for the wedding at 8 o'clock last night of Agnes Margaret, eldest daughter of Mrs. Mitchell, Pembroke Street, and the late Mr. W. G. Mitchell, and Mr. Frederick Thomas Scafe, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Scafe, Craigflower Road, a large congregation attending. During the ceremony, performed by Rev. J. Mackie Niven, the bridal couple stood beneath an arch of white lilies and pink tulips. Standard baskets of Calla lilies, white stocks and snapdragons flanked the pulpit, and the guest pews were marked with white heather and lilies of the valley, tied with silver ribbons.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John Mitchell of Wellington, the bride was charming in her French model gown of palest salmon pink cut velvet, the skirt extending to a slight train. A brilliant clip marked the front of the V-neck bodice, which was buttoned down the back, and with it she wore a short jacket with long full sleeves, caught at the wrists. Her veil of matching tulle was attached to a hand-crocheted Juliet cap, with a bandeau of real forget-me-nots across the brow, and she carried a shower bouquet of forget-me-nots, lilies-of-the-valley and deep pink roses.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Isla Mitchell wearing a pretty ankle-length frock of forget-me-not blue point d'esprit over taffeta, with short puff sleeves and a Peter Pan collar, and a blue satin sash tied in long ends in front. She carried a bouquet of blue lilies and pink sweet peas tied with a pink bow. Miss Isla Mitchell wore a frock of canary yellow silk net over a taffeta slip edged with a narrow frill above the hem-line, and cut on similar lines to that of her sister. She carried a bouquet of yellow ranunculus and mauve sweet peas tied with mauve ribbon. They both wore hair bandeaux of forget-me-nots.

Little Beverly June Baker, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl dressed in a Kate Greenway frock of mauve point d'esprit over flowered satin, with a bandeau of pastel-shaded flowers in her hair, and carried a Victorian bouquet. Mr. Gilbert Baker was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Bernard Franklin and Mr. Thomas Rickinson.

Mr. Lawton Partington played the wedding music, and Mr. Wilfred Demers sang "Because" as the register was being signed.

RECEPTION HELD

After the ceremony a reception was held in the K. of C. Hall, the young couple standing beneath an arch of flowers. The guests were received by Mrs. Mitchell, wearing a gown of Coronation blue with navy blue accessories, and Mrs. Scafe, in navy blue, both wearing corsage bouquets of rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley. Supper was served from a table centred with the bride's cake, set among folds of tulle sprinkled with confetti, between vases of sweet peas and lilies-of-the-valley. Mr. John Halknet, an old family friend, proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs, the young couple will make their home in Victoria. The bride traveled in a smart navy blue ensemble, with a grey topcoat.

The many gifts included a double waffle iron from the associates of the bride at Vaughan's Groceries Ltd.; a mantle clock from the hall committee, Colwood, where the bridegroom has been basketball coach for several years; a case of flat silver from the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League, of which the groom is president, and a bridge lamp from the women's societies of Knox Presbyterian Church, with which the bride is connected.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyall and Mrs. Edward Nyholm, Port Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. Jenkins, Mrs. N. Sleuter, Mrs. Joe Almond and Miss Dora Brunton, Vancouver; Mrs. Allan MacLeod, Surrey, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. W. Cairns, Sooke, and Miss Agnes Milne, Milnes Landing.

Society

Miss White, St. James Street, will go over to Seattle tomorrow to spend the week-end there with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Whitelaw and daughter, Margaret, arrived from Vancouver today to visit Mr. Whitelaw's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith of Langford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Eccleston and Miss Peggy Eccleston of Beverly Hills, are among California visitors at the Empress Hotel. They arrived yesterday.

Mrs. E. J. Sandy, Menzies Street, spent a week on the mainland with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Sandy.

Mrs. W. Aspinall Wade and Mrs. M. Linley, who have been spending a few days in Vancouver, have returned to "Connemara," Island Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anslow, Prince Rupert, have arrived in the city and are the guests of Mrs. M. Fyfe, Suffolk Street. They will attend the marriage of their son, Mr. J. N. Anslow, to Miss Agnes Fyfe, which will take place on Saturday.

In honor of Miss Marjorie Brown, who yesterday celebrated her twenty-first birthday, a surprise dinner party was held last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Brown, 1318 Beach Drive. The dinner table was centred with white lilies and pink tulips. The guests were Miss Hope Denbigh, Miss Helen Eve, Miss Doreen McGregor, Miss Frances Graham, Miss Elizabeth Edwards, Dr. Alec Gunning, Mr. Jack Banks, Mr. Monty Christopher, Mr. Bill Lawson, Mr. Lynn Patrick and Mr. Bert Twist.

Mrs. George Edwards was the guest of honor at a supper party at the home of Mrs. Ross McLachlan, Broughton Street, on Wednesday evening, given by the fellow-members of her bridge club. The affair followed the annual dinner of the club at the Dominion Hotel and a theatre party. During supper, Mrs. Edwards, a popular member of the club, was presented with a farewell gift on the occasion of her leaving Victoria for Nanaimo to make her home, accompanied by their good wishes from the following: Mrs. Ross McLachlan, Mrs. Austin Graham, Mrs. K. Parsons, Miss D. Pink and Mr. W. Deaville. The supper table with its embroidered lace had a pretty centrepiece composed of mauve iris and yellow tulips in a silver rose bowl. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Deaville, Rev. and Mrs. R. Moses (Vancouver), Mrs. A. Wheeler, Mrs. E. H. Carr, Mrs. J. Frampton, Mrs. Kenneth Parsons, Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. Gordon Corless, the Misses Doris Pink, Florence and Ethel Gillis and Messrs. J. Alfred Wheeler and W. Deaville.

Mr. Clifford Evans, the talented young Vancouver violinist, is a visitor in Victoria for a few days.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. Edell, Caledonia Avenue, in honor of Miss Agnes Edell, who is to be married in the near future. The gifts were concealed in a pink and white decorated basket. Prior to the serving of refreshments Miss McKinnon sang "I Love You Truly." The evening came to a close by singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Those present were: Mesdames H. Edell, Debitat, M. Deaville, M. Klassen, H. Law, Lubasch and C. Teifer, Misses A. Edell, C. McKinnon, E. Griffin, E. Mulest, M. Eira, S. Bonnett, V. Kimmell, G. Kimmell, E. Schacht, E. Stenner and J. Teifer and Messrs. J. Eira, Tubasch and H. Edell.

Members of the ladies' committee of the Uplands Golf Club and players who participated in the recent club championship gathered at the tea hour in the clubhouse yesterday afternoon to honor Mrs. E. Jackson, ladies' captain and winner of the B.C. amateur golf championship. Mrs. A. Woodcroft and Mrs. Irma South poured tea at the long table, decorated with early summer flowers and centred with a beautifully decorated ice cream cake, the gift of Mrs. James Cameron. A letter was read from the men's committee congratulating Mrs. Jackson and commending her high standard of golf in the dual triumph of medalist and champion during a week of adverse weather. Mrs. A. M. Boyd expressed the admiration and pride of the members in Mrs. Jackson's prowess. Others present included Mrs. A. B. Sanders, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, Mrs. H. B. Combe, Mrs. J. Ellis, Mrs. A. Dowell, Miss M. Mackenzie-Grieve, Mrs. V. M. Gallon, Mrs. James McIlraith, Mrs. D. Fletcher, Miss D. Fletcher, Mrs. J. Fletcher, Mrs. Norman Baker, Miss E. Smith, Mrs. L. Nelson, Mrs. B. Clifford, Mrs. S. D. Horsford, Mrs. Cyril Pearson and Mrs. E. Watson. Mrs. Jackson was later presented with a beautiful flowering begonia in a jardiniere and a sheaf of gladioli.

Mrs. A. R. Kerr and Miss A. G. White were joint hostesses last evening at Mrs. Kerr's home on Summit Avenue, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Jessie Jones, whose marriage to Mr. R. N. Brown takes place this month. A color scheme, in keeping with the Coronation season, was used in the decorations. A ship, fashioned out of red, white and blue crepe paper, and laden with many gifts, was standing in front of the fireplace, and was presented to Miss Jones upon her arrival. Masses of red tulips, iris, narcissi and bridal wreath were prettily arranged in the drawing-room and hall, while similar flowers formed the centrepiece for the daintily-appointed supper table with its lace cloth and blue candles in silver holders. Games were played, Mrs. White and Mrs. Mitchell being the winners. The guests were: Mrs. M. S. White, Mrs. T. C. Jones, Mrs. E. S. Mitchell, Mrs. S. Hooper, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Ford, Mrs. J. Stubbs, Mrs. W. R. Randall, Mrs. R. T. Pitton, Mrs. D. McPherson, Mrs. S. Brownsey, Mrs. R. E. Williams, and Misses Laura E. Hooper, Maude Jones, Madge Randall, Mary Stubbs, Ruth Randall and Florence Jones.

Popular Pair Wed Last Night

Miss Velma Nute Is Bride Of Clifford Merriman

Last night at 8 o'clock, in the vestry of the First United Church, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson united in marriage Velma Alice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nute, 647 Niagara Street, and Clifford Alfred Merriman, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Merriman, 864 Pembroke Street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was an attractive figure in her white knitted suit and a robin's egg blue blouse and white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Attending her sister was Miss Frances Nute, who wore a gray taller and a navy blue sheer blouse and a corsage of pink carnations and maiden-hair fern. Mr. Ralph Pontious was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Nute, in a flowered silk suit with accessories to tone, and a corsage of pastel-shaded sweet peas, and by Mrs. Merriman in a figured silk dress with navy accessories and a corsage of pastel-shaded sweet peas. The happy couple received the congratulations of their friends in front of the fireplace, which had been banked with ferns and flowers for the occasion.

Miss Marjorie Margison was at the piano during the evening. The tea table was very attractive with a lace cloth and pink undercloth and was centred with the three-tiered wedding cake surrounded in pink tulle, which was caught together with streamers in pink and white suspended from the chandelier. Silver vases of London pride and lily of the valley were at the corners of the table.

After a honeymoon spent on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Merriman will make their home in Victoria.

Among the many beautiful gifts was a handsome cheque from the Continental Life Insurance Company, in whose service the bride had been employed as branch cashier for Victoria.

Colorful Exercises Held By St. Joseph's

Nurses' Graduation Drew Large Crowd to St. Ann's Last Night; Bishop Cody Addresses Graduates

The auditorium of St. Ann's Academy was filled to overflowing last night for the dignified and colorful ceremony which marked the thirty-sixth annual graduation exercises of St. Joseph's Hospital nursing school.

The proscenium was banked with the many beautiful floral baskets and bouquets sent to the members of the graduating class, who were warmly applauded as they filed on to the stage in their immaculate white uniforms and caps, each carrying a sheaf of scarlet and white carnations, representing the hospital colors. Behind them on the stage were the undergraduates in their trim uniforms, the whole presenting an unforgettable picture.

The graduates were each presented in turn to the assembly by Dr. G. F. Aylward, and were then presented with their diplomas by Dr. M. J. Keys, while Rev. Mother Provincial pinned on their medals, to the hearty applause evoked by their friends in the audience.

THE GRADUATES

The graduates were: Etta Margaret Cowan, Helen Josephine Mitchell, Doris Gertrude Bischoff, Margaret Louise Munro, Lydia Jean Grant, Aileen Wright, Ruth Marguerite Witter, and Mary Isabel Paterson, all of Victoria; Eleanor Gertrude Elliott, Velma Ellen Bastedo, Valerie Cecilia Gouthro, Diana Kathleen Stewart, and Lucille Mildred Minette, all of Vancouver; Florence Eva Atkins, Shaunavon, Sask.; Sheila Kathleen Hoops, Telkwa, B.C.; Jeanne Mary Daem, Revelstoke; Beatrice Irene Wall, Saskatoon, Sask.; Edna May Moore, Nanaimo; Grace Violet Ockenden, Lloydminster, Sask.; Beryl Mary Sheard, Port Alberni; Audrey Ellaboth Gogswell, Sooke; Louise Allison Duggan, Revelstoke; Hazel Francis Ladysmith; Ruth Evelyn McCaig, Edmonton; Timilda Maria Tassin, Ladysmith; Lillian Joan Gould, James Island, Helen Mary Thompson, Kelowna; and Vilda Josephine Weppeler, Vanguard, Sask.

Post-graduates in X-ray and physical therapy were Mrs. Isabel Shadforth and Miss Leonore Fletcher, both of Victoria; and in pathological laboratory technique, Mary Lidstone Smyth and Maud Joyce Greenwood, both of Victoria.

SPECIAL PRIZES

A number of special prizes were also presented.

Through Mrs. Frank Sehl, the St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary bursary for the highest average in examinations for three years was presented to Miss Margaret Munro, other students meriting honorable mention being Misses Jean Grant, Doris Bischoff and Etta Cowan.

Mrs. Angus Campbell's bursary for efficient nursing practice, second year, went to Miss Jessie Macklin, other students meriting honorable mention being Misses Mildred Prior, Bernice McKinnon, Frances Van Varsveld, Phyllis Jesse, Linda Ainsworth and Irene Ashton.

On behalf of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Victoria, Miss Toyne presented Miss Bernice McKinnon, the winner, with the association bursary for the highest average in theory, first year.

Sister Mary Beatrice, superintendent of nurses, presented to Miss Ruth Waddington the Dr. Arthur Price prize for examination in communicable disease nursing. The Dr. Arthur Price prize for examination in gynecology was won by Miss Vilda Weppeler; and the Dr. Richard Pelton prize for examination in public health was won by Miss Margaret Munro. Miss M. Street, lay instructor, presented these last two on behalf of the donors.

Miss Louise Allen Duggan, the valedictorian, in her dignified address on behalf of the graduates, extended to all connected with their three years' training the appreciation and grateful thanks of the members of the graduating class.

In union, the class of 1937 repeated the Florence Nightingale Pledge.

BISHOP SPEAKS

Added interest was given to the graduation exercises this year as His Excellency Bishop Cody made his first public appearance in Victoria. Nursing he considered one of the loftiest of vocations, but unless the nurse dedicated herself to God, the Great Physician, he felt her life could not be led without fear under any circumstance. "There can be no brotherhood of man unless there is fraternity with God," he said.

Dr. George Hall, in his talk to the graduating class, urged them to keep up with their studies, reminding them that nursing was not the end of their nursing course. Although their training in the hospital had necessitated hard work and study, he considered that no profession for a girl gave such poise as that of a nurse.

In the unavoidable absence of Mayor McGavin, Alderman James Adam addressed the class and complimented them on having graduated from a hospital of such high standard, and reminded them that a cheerful, happy and buoyant disposition was needed for success in their profession.

Interspersing the events on the programme were musical numbers, Mrs. W. A. Jameson contributing vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle; Mr. Pierre Timp, two solos, with Mrs. Timp at the piano, and Miss Fay Ockenden, violin solos.

Orange Juveniles — Pride of Victoria No. 55 Orange Juvenile Association will meet in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, on Saturday at 2 o'clock. All members asked to be present.

St. Alban's Society — The St. Alban's Ladies Society met on Thursday, Mrs. D. Swan presiding. Final arrangements were made to hold a gift shower on Friday, May 28, in the Parish Hall at 8 p.m. Donations for the various stalls in connection with St. Alban's fete to be held on Wednesday, June 16, will be much appreciated. The next card party will be held on Wednesday, June 2. What will be played.

Girl Guides Meet In East

Toronto, May 21. — Representing 50,784 members of the Canadian Girl Guide Association, delegates from every province gathered here yesterday for a two-day annual convention.

They were greeted at the opening session by Chief Commissioner Mrs. H. D. Warren.

Reports from some provinces were read by representatives including Miss Patricia Horder, Manitoba; Miss Ruby Hutchinson, Saskatchewan; and Mrs. S. H. Gaudier, Alberta. A report from British Columbia was also received.

Many Canadian guides attended international camps and conferences last summer in Europe and the United States. Mrs. Alan Morkill of Victoria, B.C., and Mrs. R. Borden of Coleman, Alta., were Dominion representatives at the ninth world conference held in Sweden.

First United Y.P. Held Banquet

The First United Young People's Society brought their winter season to a close on Monday evening, when they held their annual banquet. Rev. E. F. Church of Metropolitan Church was the guest speaker. He urged young people to strive for higher things in this life, not to be content with the ordinary everyday things. Alex. Crawford proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker.

After an enjoyable supper, prepared by the ladies of the club, the group was led in community singing by Miss Charlotte McCall at the piano. Miss Lauretta McCall and Bill Inglis sang as a duet "O Peaceful Night." Jack Smith acted as accompanist. Miss Eileen Bowman gave a comic recitation, "The Foxes' Tails."

Ralph K. Simpson, on behalf of the society, made presentations to John Gough, W. F. Robinson, Miss Eileen Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Page.

Alex. Crawford, president of the society, presented Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Horton with a table lamp and wished them Godspeed in their new field, and to Mrs. R. K. Simpson he presented a bouquet for her untiring efforts on behalf of the society. Mrs. John Gough played two delightful piano solos, Brahms' "Gavotte," and as an encore, Chopin's "Etude." An interesting evening was brought to a close with a brief talk by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson.

The invited guests were: Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Church, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Simon Fraser, Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Horton, Professor and Mrs. E. S. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. John Gough, Alderman and Mrs. W. T. Straith, R. G. Howell, Don Purves, Jack Smith, Neil Perry, Gilbert Brown and Don Taylor.

Among the guests registered at the Dominion Hotel are: Mr. J. McKay, Vancouver; Mr. S. E. Taylor, Vancouver; Mr. J. N. Hyland, Vancouver; Mr. H. T. Dale, Toronto, Ont.; Mr. A. McGarry, Chilliwack; Miss P. Nicholson, Vancouver; Messrs. C. S. Robson, A. G. Graham and S. Drake, Nanaimo; Mr. P. L. Bissell, Vancouver; Mr. M. E. Kline and Mr. J. R. Hill, Moscow, Idaho; Mr. L. B. Conservatives Hold Reception

Dr. Frank P. Patterson of Vancouver, Conservative leader in British Columbia, together with the four Victoria Conservative candidates and their wives, were the guests of honor at the reception held in the headquarters, Campbell Building, yesterday afternoon by the Women's Conservative Association.

Mrs. S. R. Bowden, the president, was in the chair, introducing Dr. Patterson and the candidates, each of whom spoke briefly. With the leader on the platform were Mr. Herbert Anson, Dr. J. D. Hunter, F. A. Willis, and B. A. McKelvie; also Leslie F. Osborne, Conservative candidate for Saanich, and R. A. Wootton, president of the British Columbia Conservative Association.

A musical programme included songs at the piano by Mrs. Bert Noel, Mrs. Sydney Sherratt, with Miss Moore at the piano, and Miss Margery Benson, who was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. H. D. Benson.

Mrs. B. F. Green and Mrs. R. A. Wootton presided at the tea-table, which was arranged with flowers in red, white and blue shades.

S.P.C.A. Discusses Higher Dog Tax

The monthly meeting of the committee of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held in their new office, 304 Jones Block. The inspector reported that there was now abundant feed for stock following a hard winter in which some stock had suffered. Officials of the city are considering the advisability of increasing the tax on certain breeds of dogs in view of the fact that they are accused of attacking persons and smaller dogs. Some provinces in Canada are reported to have imposed an extra tax on Alsatians. It was felt that there should be better control of dogs, and the president was instructed to take the matter up with city officials.

Final arrangements were made for the tag day on Saturday, and Lady Emily Walker, A. Nevill Smith and J. Braden will have charge of the office.

Mrs. MacCallan was appointed a member of the committee to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of one of the members.

During the month twenty-nine cases were attended and 305 animals and birds inspected.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, E. Pirie 8351, or to A. R. Sherwood, secretary - treasurer, Empire 7556.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOAN BARRETT, heroine, secretary to John Hendry.
JOHN HENDRY, mining investment head.
BOB ANDREWS, Hendry's junior partner and Joan's fiance.
SYBIL HENDRY, socialite, John Hendry's niece and Joan's rival in love.
PHILIP HENDRY, Sybil's brother.
DOROTHY STARRKE, Joan's childhood friend.
CHARLES NORTON, California mining promoter.

Yesterday—Joan is left alone in the office with Charles Norton who recognizes her as having once lived in California. Trembling, Joan denies this.

He went through the agreement slowly, thoughtfully. Occasionally he dictated a paragraph to be added, or changed. As she took down the notes, she could feel his eyes burning into her.

She made a pretty picture sitting there, in her simple little black school-girl dress, with the crisp white collar and cuffs. Through the window a sunbeam entered, and caught up the highlights in her golden curls. Her eyes were cast down, intent upon her notes, and their long dark lashes seemed to rest on the velvet of her cheeks—cheeks which were a little pink now with a flush of embarrassment. Norton regarded her with undisguised appreciation.

After ten or fifteen minutes, he laid the papers aside, deliberately. He noticed that the tiny clock on her desk marked the hour of noon.

"It's 12 o'clock," he remarked. "I'm keeping you from your lunch."

"That's quite all right," Joan assured him, her tone crisp and businesslike.

"I think it would be very much nicer," he suggested, "if I took you to lunch. We could return later and finish this."

Joan started, uneasily. "I'm very sorry," she stammered. "I can't—not today."

Norton smiled again. "I distinctly heard Mr. Hendry tell you to take the afternoon off. Why can't we spend it together?"

"I—I have an engagement."

"Don't tell me that!" He laughed at her, waving aside her excuses.

"How can you have an engagement when you just returned from a moment ago that you would be free?"

He rose carelessly, walked over to the window and pointed outdoors.

"It's too perfect an afternoon to waste in an office," he commented. "And I'm a stranger in your city. Surely you could show me a little hospitality..."

He returned to his chair, and as he passed in back of Joan, he dropped his hand to pat her shoulder.

But in his manner of doing it there was none of the fatherly kindness which Mr. Hendry's similar action had denoted. Norton's touch on her shoulder was deliberate, purposeful, and unpleasant. Joan writhed under it.

"I do have a luncheon engagement," she insisted. "Do you mind if I finish this as quickly as possible? I should not like to be late."

"You can break the appointment."

Joan wondered now if the minor changes he had suggested in the agreement were so very important, after all. Was it, rather, just a little plan of his own to spend the afternoon with her? If it was companion-ship, why pick on her? There were a million girls in New York. What was the reason he sought her out so craftily?

"It's quite impossible," she retorted sharply. "There is no way in which I can reach the friend I am to meet..."

"A lady friend, I suppose?" he asked impudently.

"Yes."

"Then suppose I take you both to lunch, and you and I can enjoy ourselves alone, later on."

Won't he understand that I'm not going with him, Joan thought. Must I run out of the office and leave him sitting here? If only Bob would drop by now! Bob! She'd forgotten for the moment that she wore a symbol of Bob's protection against just this sort of unpleasantness.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Norton. Your invitation really is a little—embarrassing."

She laid her left hand on the desk, where the sunlight picked up the brilliant sparkle of the diamond in her ring. The gesture was not lost on Norton. He laughed, brazenly.

"So that's the reason!" he remarked. "The boy friend's jealousy, eh?"

"No—not exactly..."

Still laughing, he patted the hand that wore the ring. Joan pulled it away quickly.

"Don't be so old-fashioned, my dear!" Norton advised. "What the boy friend doesn't know will never matter. While he's working hard this lovely afternoon, you and I can strol a march..."

"Please understand, Mr. Norton. It's quite impossible. I'm engaged to marry Mr. Andrews, of this office. You know him, of course. I don't think Mr. Hendry would like..."

Norton looked up in surprise. "Young Andrews, eh? Well, that does complicate matters. John Hendry would never have me cutting in on Andrews's territory..." the lucky devil!"

He leaned closer, and once again his dark eyes looked into her very soul.

"You know you are quite the loveliest girl!" he murmured. "Your face has haunted me ever since I met you."

Joan squirmed.

"There's something about you that reminds me of someone..." Norton persisted. "Someone I knew... did you ever live in California?"

"Not!" Joan almost shouted the denial, drawing away from his nearness. Quickly, however, she gathered her wits. "That is," she amended.

"Violently," "not since I was a baby. I was born in Sacramento, but my family left California when I was still an infant." Dorothy's spirit hovered over, prompting, strengthening.

Norton smiled. "But you did come from California! I knew it. You can always tell a Sunshine girl..." Who was your father? I might have known him. I lived in Sacramento for years..."

Joan's nerves were quivering. She couldn't fool this man. His eyes saw too much. Even now they were probing, seeking, wondering what caused her hesitation. Was he tormenting her, knowing full well who her father was?

With all the strength of will she possessed, she forced herself to smile, and to answer lightly:

"I imagine my father stayed in Sacramento just long enough for me to join his family..." I really come from a long line of gypsies. California was just one more stopping-off place."

CHAPTER XVII

Eventually, Joan met Dorothy for lunch, though it was long after one o'clock, and Dorothy had been waiting half an hour.

"I had the most awful time getting here!" she cried breathlessly. "That Norton man—Mr. Hendry's friend from California—kept me, pretending he had some work..." He is the most horrible person!"

"Why didn't you walk out on him?"

"I did, finally. However," she reported more cheerfully, "I have the afternoon off. Mr. Hendry told me to go shopping."

Dorothy smiled. "Is he an understanding fellow?"

Joan did not think of Norton again that afternoon; they were both too absorbed in the joy of buying in sheer extravagance. With three hundred dollars to spend—on hundred on lingerie alone, if she wanted to—Joan felt as if she owned the world.

It was not until late that night, after Joan had tried on the last silky, slithering nightgown, that Dorothy remarked, wickedly—

"You are the prettiest thing, Joan..." I don't wonder that old Norton tried to make up to you—Look out! You've dropped that lovely nightgown on the floor."

She looked up quickly, wondering what had started Joan so. "What's the matter?" she asked lightly.

Joan rubbed a hand over her forehead. "I'm tired, I guess. And I'd forgotten all about Norton..."

Dorothy laughed. "Surely you're not afraid of him, are you?"

"I think I am..."

"You goose! With Bob and Mr. Hendry in the same office?"

"It's not that. He's a link—to California. I can't be sure whether he knows or not."

"Fiddlesticks!" Dorothy exclaimed lightly. "Don't worry about it." But her eyes clouded, and for a moment she set on the bed quietly turning the matter over in her mind.

"Joan," she said finally, "do you mind if I ask you about it?"

Joan looked up in mild surprise. "About my father, you mean?"

"Yes."

"I don't mind, Dorothy. What is it?"

"Was he guilty?" She asked it timidly, knowing how painful the question might be.

Joan, however, did not flinch. Her voice, when she replied, was sad, but still quiet. She had answered the question so many times, in her own heart as well as to other people.

"He never killed a man, Dorothy," she said simply. "I know it means nothing for me to say that. He said it so often—and my mother said it. But nobody believed them. I know that he was innocent, just as you would have known it of your father, just as I know now that Bob could never do anything like that."

Says Figures Are Distorted

Hart Checks Conservatives on Debt and Investment Statements

Port Haney, May 21.—Launching an attack upon the former Conservative government for piling up a debt of approximately $600,000,000 during their term of office, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, speaking here tonight in support of David William Strahan, Liberal candidate in the Dewdney riding, drew to the attention of the audience that Dr. Frank Patterson, leader of the Conservative party, and other speakers, were misrepresenting the financial affairs of the province.

"The net debt of British Columbia is $154,000,000 and not $200,000,000 as has been stated by Dr. Patterson and other speakers," Mr. Hart declared.

"I want to take this opportunity of placing before you a true picture of the province's finances as I found them when I took office. The treasury and the sinking fund was in an appalling condition when the present administration took office in 1933," he stated.

"The Conservative government invested the sinking funds in Alberta securities but British Columbia and Saskatchewan bonds with abandon, and even purchased Burnaby bonds, which are now in default," he charged.

INVESTED IN B.C. BONDS

"During my term of office prior to 1928, I at no time permitted the sinking funds to be invested in any securities but British Columbia or Dominion bonds. Immediately upon re-assuming office in 1933 instructions were issued that sinking fund investments be confined to British Columbia and Dominion bonds, and steps were taken to rectify the harm done by the Conservative regime."

Approximately $1,250,000 of the Alberta and Saskatchewan bonds that had been purchased by Conservative ministers were replaced with British Columbia bonds and Dominion securities. We were able to make a handsome profit on this transaction for at that time our credit position was not as strong as that of Alberta or Saskatchewan.

"Any loss incurred from these unwise and unsound investments made during the years 1929 to 1933 lies directly at the door of the Conservative administration. Yet we find Dr. Patterson and his supporters asking you to elect them to office. What for? To continue the policy of mismanagement that placed the province in such dire condition as we found it in 1933?" Mr. Hart declared.

"While investment of funds of the workmen's compensation board are not made by the government, the proposed investments first must have the approval of the Minister of Finance, so that the Conservative government can in no way evade the responsibility that is theirs."

"Upon assuming office I immediately instructed that the workmen's compensation board funds were not to be invested in anything but our own bonds, or those of the Dominion," the minister continued.

ACHIEVEMENT RECOGNIZED

"That we have been able to restore the credit of the province despite this debacle of unsound investment is proven, not so much by anything our supporters, but by the public recognition that has been given to the financial record of this government by such financial journals as the Monetary Times. The Financial Post, and even newspapers that are definitely Conservative in politics. When our own political opponents stand apart for a moment in the matter of political principles to pay tribute to our record, then I have no hesitation in commending that record to you."

"I am not interested in wild election statements. I am only interested in giving the facts to the public, just as I have done when discussing financial affairs with eastern investors. I am not interested in minimizing or exaggerating the figures in connection with the public debt. I am only interested in giving those facts as they present themselves. I feel it is my duty to acquaint you with those facts as they are, rather than distort them as they have been by Dr. Patterson, who as leader of the Conservative party, should know the facts and present them accordingly," Mr. Hart concluded.

Mark Seventieth Wedding Day

Vancouver, May 21.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Granwick, former Brandon, Man., residents, yesterday celebrated their seventieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Granwick, now ninety-two, and his ninety-five-year-old wife were married in their native Yorkshire in 1850. They came to Canada in 1888 and settled north of Brandon. Twenty-three years ago they came to British Columbia. Two years ago the couple narrowly escaped asphyxiation when a gas jet was left open in their home. Today they enjoy good health. They attribute their long life to the content and peace of mind that comes from "companionship and a congenial married life."

A dictionary of American English, dealing mainly with words that have originated in the United States, is being compiled.

The tea plant grows to a height of thirty feet in its native state. It is an evergreen tree, which bears long, narrow, leathery leaves and beautiful white or rose tinted flowers, followed by woody capsules containing three round seeds each.

Contracts Let For Road Work

Government Awards Jobs Totalling $52,000 on Mainland Highways

Four contracts for road reconstruction jobs, totalling approximately $52,000, were let yesterday by the Department of Public Works.

The lowest bidders were awarded the contract in each case. The successful tenderers were announced by Arthur Dixon, deputy minister of public works, as follows:

Rosedale-Cheam section of trans-Canada highway between mile 72.5 and 73.8, Dawson, Wade & Co., $16,748.50.

Dewdney trunk road in Port Moody, between mile 10 and 12, General Construction Co. Ltd., $11,350.50.

Lougheed highway, widening between mile 71 and 72, Agassiz Plats, J. R. Paget, $13,599.30.

Abbotsford-Clayburn road, grading and graveling, W. C. Arnett & Co., $10,901.

The government also let the contract today for construction for new office building at New Denver, replacing a structure burned down a few months ago. E. M. Adair, New Denver contractor, was awarded the work at a figure of $9,472.60.

WANTS BEAUTY SPOTS SAVED

Many Topics Are Discussed at Real Estate Board Meeting

The creation of a semi-public body on the lines of the National Trust in England to preserve beauty spots on Vancouver Island was suggested by Major Cuthbert Holmes at a luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

The board meeting heard interesting views on various topics expressed by a number of members.

The National Trust had acquired 250 properties and a total of 5,000 acres in England, Major Holmes said.

It had done this at a small cost as it made people pay to see its places. The education of a tenant in the payment of rent, was the subject dealt with by J. C. Bridgman. He felt that Victoria agents had been remiss in not forcing would-be tenants to give some sort of reference or credit. A look at the former home of a tenant gave an agent a good idea of his character.

Not a single act of the British Parliament had been the subject of litigation in the courts, W. C. Warner said in discussing the Canadian constitution. He suggested that members of the board acquaint themselves with their constitution, especially now there were talks of amending it.

The Canadian constitution was different from the British in that it was written and rigid, he said. J. A. Bennell reported to the board on his committee's work with regard to janitors' wages. After some of the amendments suggested by the board had been accepted, he found the proposed draft acceptable.

"If the proposal is accepted I think we have reason to feel optimistic," James Foreman said, promising to say more on his subject, "Community Optimism," at a later date.

Frank Burton, president, was in the chair.

The last business meeting this season of the Cathedral A.Y.P.A. was held in the guild room of the Memorial Hall, Wednesday evening. The meeting featured nominations and election of the new officers for the forthcoming year. Len Dixon, re-elected president, thanked the retiring officers, and commented on their willing help with the business of the branch. Other executive members are as follows: Dick Batey, vice-president; Peggy Mulliner, corresponding secretary; Winnie Kilsby, recording secretary; Gordon Langley, treasurer; Ralph Freethy and Chris Howland, council representatives. Next Wednesday night the installation of officers will take place, to be followed by the annual banquet. Members and friends of the branch are urged to attend.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., May 21.—The employment situation in the Maritime Provinces is slightly better than that of the Dominion as a whole, D. R. Turnbull of Halifax, chairman of the Maritime division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said in a review of the division presented at the annual meeting here yesterday.

ROTARIANS SEE CAMP PICTURES

Forestry Training Service Films Shown at Luncheon

Motion pictures of young men of British Columbia at work in the many projects of the Forestry Training Service were shown to members of the Rotary Club by K. C. McCannel at a luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

The main objective of the service, Mr. McCannel explained before showing the pictures, was to give summer employment to several hundred discouraged young citizens of the province, and to train them so that they might find employment in the basic industries of the province.

They were trained in an environment both physically and mentally healthful, and taught what was expected of working men in the province.

Too many young men were seeking jobs in the cities, Mr. McCannel said, and a large number should look to the basic industries for employment.

The films showed youths from eighteen to twenty-five years old working and playing in several of the timber stands of the province, including Cowichan Lake, Elk Falls, Vanderhoof, the U.B.C. demonstration forest, Babine Lake and Kettle River.

The young men installed all their own conveniences, including the electric light systems, cabins and roads at the various camps. Throughout the province they built trails for fire-fighting and transport purposes, and in the Kettle River region put through fifty miles of telephone line.

There were very few accidents in the camps, Mr. McCannel said, but first aid units were always ready.

E. Goodman thanked Mr. McCannel for his talk.

Jack MacKay reported on a trip to the Fairbridge Farm School last Sunday. The Rotary band provided music.

Inhaling lead dust or fumes causes a much quicker lead poisoning than carrying lead into the system by way of mouth.

Mental Hospital To Be Enlarged

Five bids were submitted on construction of two new wards at New Westminster Hospital when tenders were opened yesterday by Arthur Dixon, Deputy Minister of Public Works.

The tenderers and the amount of their bids were as follows: A. Sullivan, Vancouver, $75,500; E. J. Ryan Contracting Co. Ltd., $75,970; Carter Halls Aldinger Ltd., Vancouver, $77,920; Adkinson and Dill Ltd., $78,710; Ward and Son Ltd., New Westminster, $80,690.

The bids were referred to government engineers for analysis and the contract will be let shortly. The work involves renovation of an existing building to provide two new wards, J and K, and the construction of pipe tunnels for the power supply.

Man and insects form the two most successful biological groups in existence. One consists of almost half a million kinds, the other consists of but one.

Keating Clover Has Seven Leaves

Lawrie Patterson, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Patterson, Keating, read about a six-leaf clover in The Times yesterday.

A few days before he had picked a seven-leaf clover, and just to show it was nothing unusual he went out and got another this morning and sent it up to the newsroom.

RELIEF CHANGE ASKED

Edmonton, May 21.—Request administration of relief in the Drumheller district be removed from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to a civil relief committee "which would be more democratic" was made to the Alberta Legislature relief committee yesterday. The request was made by a delegation from the Drumheller central council of unemployed representing twenty-two local unions and 3,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America.

New York Giants Win Series From Cards

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

BRITAIN'S answer, to those who see her world tennis supremacy shaken by Fred Perry's entry to professional ranks, was the early selection of a team to train for the Davis Cup campaign. While the odds are still against a British victory at Wimbledon this year, some experts have hailed the British Lawn Tennis Association selection committee's decision as a revival of hopes. They point out that a well-trained team can sometimes go as far as a team dependent on the ability of a star.

The team invited to train for the challenge round is headed by that veteran of many Davis Cup wars, H. W. "Bunny" Austin. The man who introduced shorts to the game, has already made an impressive season's debut.

Others chosen and their respective ranking on the basis of Austin being No. 1 are: C. P. Hughes, No. 2; C. E. Hare, No. 3; C. R. D. Tuckey, No. 5, and F. H. D. Wilde, No. 9. Final selection of the team will be made by H. Roper Barrett, non-playing captain.

Prospects are that both Austin and Hughes will pair with Tuckey for singles duty. It is also possible that Hughes will pair with Tuckey for the strongest doubles team, if he can stand the strain of playing in the singles too. Hare and Wilde have strong possibilities as a secondary doubles team.

It has been said that if Great Britain is to have any sort of a chance this year, Austin must win his two singles—an achievement by no means beyond his powers—whether Australia or United States win through to the challenge round. But Austin speaks for himself. "I think we have a fighting chance. Now Perry has gone, the competition will be more open. Our team is the best we can produce in the absence of our world champion. I do not want to individualize, but I think it is a good team as a whole."

"We must now all train hard. I am a great believer in physical training. Some will need more training than others, but I think we are all pretty fit. We are certainly very anxious to retain the cup."

Hare and Wilde are said to have been chosen for their fast-developing skill as a doubles pair. They have had considerable international experience, although they have never taken part in Davis Cup play. All five players have won minor tournaments this year.

Bob Feller's arm may be ailing, but the eighteen-year-old kid pitching star from New Meter, Ia., nevertheless, is worth $100,000 to the Cleveland Indians. This appraisal was placed on young Bob, May 10, when C. C. Slapnicka, vice-president of the club, took out an insurance policy in that amount on the life of the strike-out ace. The policy does not cover the serviceability of the lad's arm.

Lanky Harold Newhauser, sixteen-year-old pitcher for the Roosevelt-American Legion team in Detroit, gave up three hits and a base on balls to the first four men to face him. The team manager and the catcher conferred about taking Newhauser out of the box. They decided to keep him in for a while longer. He then proceeded to strike out the side. And he did the same thing for the next four innings, until the first man up in the sixth inning snapped his strikeout streak at fifteen by grounding out.

Newhauser, who averaged thirteen and half strikeouts last season, fanned a total of twenty-four during the day and allowed only one hit in the last eight innings.

Bartell Cracks Homer In Ninth, Bases Are Loaded

Timely Smash Whips St. Louis 7 to 4; Pittsburgh Beats Phillies

Detroit Tigers Win Over A's

The whole thing doesn't make as much sense as an insane asylum, but the figures show the American League is off to a closer and more completely unlooked-for start than it has been in years.

By the end of the first month last year, five games separated first and fourth place. This season, the race was regarded as New York, Detroit, Cleveland and nothing much else. But so far it's been so close that only four and a half games separate the leaders of the moment, Cleveland's Indians, from the cellar riding St. Louis Browns.

And most astonishing of all is that the longest of the long shots, Connie Mack's mystifying Philadelphia Athletics, are in second place, leading both the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers. They were on top until yesterday, but the Cleveland Indians licked the tar out of the Boston Red Sox, 16 to 5, while the A's dropped a 3 to 2 decision to the Tigers, which gave the Tribe the pace by a percentage margin.

Hottest of all right now are the re-viving Washington Senators—although it took two twirlers and twelve innings before they finally overcame the Browns yesterday 5 to 4 on Ossie Bluege's timely single.

Thornton Lee, Chicago White Sox southpaw, became the first finger of the year to whip the Yankees twice by miffing them with three hits for a 3 to 1 win thereby dropping them to third place.

Altogether, every outfit but the Tigers and Browns changed places yesterday. Featuring the National League lurching for the third straight day, the Giants and Cardinals wound up their three-game series with New York on top 7 to 4 on the strength of Dick Bartell's ninth inning homer with the bases loaded.

Ray Parnelle pitched a seven-hitter and blasted a homer with two aboard as the Chicago Cubs clouted the Brooklyn Dodgers 6 to 1. Vince DiMaggio banged out a pair of homers and the Boston Bees knocked off the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 1. Pittsburgh's pace setting Pirates came through with a 5 to 2 triumph over the Phillies.

COAST LEAGUE

Sad Sam Gibson dolefully added another shutout to his record to run his season's wins to eight straight, the best showing any Coast League pitcher could boast today.

The aging hurler, who hasn't cracked a smile in public for years and years, limited Los Angeles to five singles, issued one pass and fanned three as the San Francisco Seals won 6 to 0 to take a firm hold on the league leadership yesterday.

Sad Sam's pitching was so good for an old man (he's thirty-six), Manager Truck Hannah of the Angels altered his lineup in a vain effort to get some run-producing hits.

Coast League pitching was surprisingly above the 1937 average yesterday. Otho Nicholas of the Missions kept the slugger Oakland A's under control as the Reds scored an easy 5 to 1 victory in their cellar series.

Seattle reversed Wednesday's 5 to 0 score when Dick (Kewpie) Barrett limited the San Diego Padres to six hits, fanned eight and his teammates reached three San Diego pitchers for ten hits, including a three-bagger by Alan Strang.

Portland nipped two Sacramento pitchers for thirteen bingles, including four doubles to win, 7 to 4. Ad Liska allowed the Solons nine hits, three in the last inning, when they scored all of their runs.

STORE TEAMS PLAY MONDAY

Victoria and Vancouver Spencers Soccer Clubs in Match at Athletic Park

On the morning of May 24 the Athletic Park will be the scene of an intercity soccer match between Vancouver and Victoria Spencers soccer eleven. Dave McMillan will referee and play will start at 10 o'clock.

It is the second of the two-game, total-goal series for possession of the coveted Will Spencer Cup, which the local eleven has captured for the last three years. The first game of the series played in Vancouver on Good Friday resulted in a 3 to 1 victory for the mainland squad. Thus the Victoria store club will take the field with a two-goal disadvantage.

At present Vancouver Spencers are bracketed with the Mounted Police, B.C. Electric and Woodwards in a keen contest for Vancouver City Wednesday League honors. The mainland team will send over its strongest lineup in an effort to take back the silverware.

Although the local eleven dropped out of Wednesday League play recently owing to the lack of players, they have mustered together a strong eleven for the Empire Day contest and from all appearances fans who attend the game will see a good battle.

The list is growing. Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox manager, suffered a cut cheek when a thrown ball hit him Monday. His regular catcher, Rick Ferrell, suffered a broken hand the same afternoon. Then young Bob Feller of Cleveland, whose publicized sore arm had kept him idle since his first game, had a workout and remained in the game just long enough to walk one batsman.

LONG SICK LIST

The Cub's hospital list has dwindled considerably from the all-time high, but since the campaign began it has been something like this: Pitchers, Curt Davis, "dead" arm; Tex Carleton, chipped bone; Ray French, broken hand; Clay Bryant, flu; catchers, Gabby Hartnett, sore arm then split finger; Bob Garbank, broken finger; Ken O'Dea and John Bottarini, minor hurts; infielders, Bill Jurgens, broken wrist; Bill Herman and Ripper Collins, minor injuries.

Serious operations have been performed on Paul Dean of the Cardinals and Jake Powell of the Yankees. Difficult to classify is the unidentified illness that has kept Detroit's Schoolboy Rowe from taking his turn and caused him to be "laid off" until he gets into shape.

Card Week-end Cricket Games

Victoria B. Five C's, Albions and Victoria A will see action tomorrow afternoon in two friendly cricket games. The first-mentioned two will take the pitch at Macdonald Park, while the Albions and Victoria A will play at the Beacon Hill green. Both games will begin at 2:15 o'clock.

Five C's team will be as follows: Foxall, captain; G. Payne, J. Payne, Edwards, Bolster, Comley, Atwell, Fetch, Morton, Leighton and A. N. Other. Albions team will be as follows: N. F. Pite, captain; Smith, Pritchard, Walton, Barkley, Freeman, Gibbons, Ewan, Pithkethley, Pite and D. Pite.

MRS. DOWELL WINS TITLE

Defeats Mrs. H. G. MacKenzie 4 and 3 in Colwood Championship Final

Mrs. Art Dowell is the new women's champion of the Colwood Golf Club. In the eighteen hole final played yesterday she defeated Mrs. H. G. MacKenzie, 4 and 3.

Taking the lead on the first hole Mrs. Dowell was always in front. She reached the turn 3 up. She increased her margin to four holes at the eleventh. She followed with another win at the twelfth, but Mrs. MacKenzie took the thirteenth to extend play. Halves on the next two holes ended the match at the fifteenth green.

Mrs. B. R. Philbrick won the first flight from Mrs. C. Eve, 5 and 4; Mrs. H. C. C. Bennett the second flight from Mrs. P. C. Abell, 2 and 1; and Mrs. C. Denham the third flight from Mrs. T. Moulds, 6 and 5.

At the conclusion of the finals Mrs. H. F. Crowe, women's captain, presented the prizes to the winners.

The first game of the series played in Vancouver on Good Friday resulted in a 3 to 1 victory for the mainland squad. Thus the Victoria store club will take the field with a two-goal disadvantage.

At present Vancouver Spencers are bracketed with the Mounted Police, B.C. Electric and Woodwards in a keen contest for Vancouver City Wednesday League honors. The mainland team will send over its strongest lineup in an effort to take back the silverware.

Although the local eleven dropped out of Wednesday League play recently owing to the lack of players, they have mustered together a strong eleven for the Empire Day contest and from all appearances fans who attend the game will see a good battle.

The list is growing. Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox manager, suffered a cut cheek when a thrown ball hit him Monday. His regular catcher, Rick Ferrell, suffered a broken hand the same afternoon. Then young Bob Feller of Cleveland, whose publicized sore arm had kept him idle since his first game, had a workout and remained in the game just long enough to walk one batsman.

NEW CANADIAN FIGHT CHAMPS

Amateur Boxing Titleholders Are Decided at Montreal; all Easterners

Canada's new amateur boxing champions, established at Montreal last night, with former titleholders in brackets, are as follows:

Flyweight, Joe Gannon of Montreal (Mickey Hennessey of Montreal).

Bantamweight, Joe Debofsky of Montreal (Herrie Lascelles of Ottawa).

Featherweight, Mike Kartyk of St. Catharines, Ont. (Billy Marquardt of Winnipeg).

Lightweight, Jean Paul Lachapelle of Montreal (Babe McLeod of Montreal).

Welterweight, Gordon Schmalz of Kitchener, Ont. (Maurice Camyree of Winnipeg).

Middleweight, Steve Sloan of Niagara Falls, Ont. (Irving Peace of Toronto).

Light-heavyweight, Eli Brown of Montreal (Oliver Shanks of Edmonton).

Heavyweight, Tommy Osborne of Montreal (George Bird of St. Catharines, Ont.).

Of the former titleholders, Marquardt, McLeod, Camyree, Peace and Shanks all have turned professional. The others did not defend their titles.

"Star of the Month"

New York, May 21.—Although pressed closely by five other players in both leagues, Carl Hubbell was big league baseball's "star of the month" in the opening thirty-day period of the season.

The Giants' great left-hander was named five times during the month in the daily Associated Press list of "yesterday's stars," one more than each of his nearest rivals—his teammate, Dick Bartell, Van Mungo of the Brooklyn Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals' Ducky Medwick and Dizzy Dean, and Detroit Tigew's Gerry Walker.

Left-handed Feller?

Branch Rickey suspects that he has landed a left-handed Bob Feller for the St. Louis Cardinals in Archie Templeton, shown burning his hand one across the plate. Otherwise, young Templeton would not have received any part of the $10,000 he is reported to have been paid for signing a National League contract. Templeton, eighteen as is Feller, struck out sixty-eight batters in fifty-two innings for the Methodist Children's Home team of Winston-Salem, N.C.

HIGH STARS SET RECORDS

Establish Field Marks at Eliminations for Annual School Sports

Two records were smashed yesterday afternoon on the Fernwood Road campus as the eliminations for the Victoria High School track and field meet on May 28 advanced.

In the senior broad jump George "Porky" Andrews smashed the record of 19 feet 5 1/2 inches set by Art Chapman in 1930. Andrews first jump was 19 feet 10 inches, and his second jump set the record at 19 feet 11 inches. Andrews, Fred Smith and Bill Noel advanced into the finals in this event.

In the hop, step and jump, the three who qualified all made jumps exceeding the old record set by Lynn Patrick in 1931 at 40 feet 6 inches. Fred Smith set the record yesterday at 42 feet 2 inches. "Hank" Rowe jumped 41 feet 8 inches, and "Porky" Andrews 41 feet 6 inches. All three will compete in this event on May 26.

The boys' baseball throw was taken through to a final yesterday afternoon, and was won by George "Porky" Andrews, who hurled the ball 320 feet 6 inches. H. Holstein Rathlup placed second and W. Noel third.

Results of yesterday's eliminations follow:

Junior 220 yards—First heat: 1. E. Glover, 2. N. Willis. Second heat: 1. J. Chapman, 2. B. Hudson. Third heat: 1. P. Warburton, 2. L. Ross. All will be in the final.

Juvenile seventy-yard hurdles—First heat: 1. J. Mackintosh, 2. J. Loit. Second heat: 1. N. Carter, 2. D. Coates. Third heat: 1. L. Schimminze, 2. G. Baxter. Fourth heat: 1. F. Winslow, 2. W. Clarke. Semi-finals, all of which will be in the final—First heat: 1. F. Winslow, 2. W. Clarke. Second heat: 1. N. Carter, 2. J. Mackintosh.

Junior seventy-yard hurdles, semi-finals—First heat: 1. R. Warburton, 2. E. Glover. Second heat: 1. N. Willis, 2. L. Ross. All will be in the final.

Intermediate 120-yard hurdles—First heat: 1. E. Green, 2. D. Alton. Second heat: 1. E. Holyoak, 2. H. Holstein Rathlup.

Salmonbellies On Top

New Westminster, May 21.—New Westminster Salmonbellies last night retained top place in the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League, smashing out a 32 to 12 victory over the Richmond Combines of Vancouver.

Salmonbellies took the lead at the end of the first period 7 to 4 and were never headed.

Tyler with six and Dave with seven goals led New Westminster scoring while Carl Grauer led Richmond players with four tallies.

New Method Win Third Straight

Softball Player Out for Season

Gordon Eastwood, third sacker for the Bruins de Danse C. section softball team has been suspended from softball play for the remainder of the 1937 season for his attack on an umpire during Wednesday evening's game against the Victoria Brass and Iron Works. This was the drastic action taken yesterday evening by officials of the Lower Island Softball Association at a special meeting held in the Colonnist boardroom.

According to reports at the meeting Eastwood attempted to settle arguments with the umpire on three occasions. Speaking on the subject of the conduct of players President Jack Taylor said: "The umpires must be protected, and we will see that they are, throughout the season."

KING'S PLATE ON TOMORROW

Red Pirate and Goldlure Joint Favorites for Canadian Racing Classic

Toronto, May 21.—When a field of about fourteen thoroughbreds spring from starting stalls in the King's Plate here tomorrow, a Toronto-born jockey, Frankie Mann, will gallop toward what he hopes will be his fourth victory in the classic.

Like Earl Sande in the Kentucky Derby, Frankie has scored a triple in the nine-furlong event that tops the Canadian racing list, equaling the record set by Harry Lewis in the late 90's. Mann will stride Isleworth, running with Cease Fire as the H. R. Bain entry.

Frankie wasn't sure today he had much of a chance to snag a fourth triumph. "Cease Fire is the better horse," he said. "And besides there are too many good horses in the race. Look at Silver Jubilee—that one will be a hard nut to crack."

Mann won his first Plate victory in 1931 when he brought R. W. R. Cowie's Frothblower home on top. He came right back in 1932 on Queensway, another Cowie color-bearer. His greatest win was in 1934 astride Horometer when that great gelding, owned by R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa set the Plate record of 1:51.5.

THE FAVORITES

R. S. McLaughlin's Red Pirate and H. C. Hatch's Goldlure have been installed favorites.

Horses, owners, jockeys and weights follow:

Red Pirate, Parkwood Stable, R. Watson, 117; Silver Jubilee, Parkwood Stable, C. McDonald, 117; Parkwood King, Parkwood Stable, H. Black, 117; Goldlure, H. C. Hatch, S. Young, 117; Goster, H. C. Hatch, H. Lindberg, 112; Cease Fire, H. R. Bain, C. Critchfield, 117; Isleworth, H. R. Bain, F. Mann, 112; Aldwych, R. W. R. Cowie, F. Vallee, 112; Golden Silence, Erindale Stable, T. Almers, 117; Fore Issus, Erindale Stable, C. McTague, 112; Sandalman, Erindale Stable, J. Passero, 117; Tolke Oike, R. N. New, C. W. Smith, 112; Slycat, J. E. Smallman, P. Remillard, 112; Gold Guard, J. E. Seagram, N. Foden, 107.

MIXED FOURSOMES

A mixed foursomes competition will be held at the Victoria Golf Club on Monday. It will be eighteen holes medal play, with half the combined handicaps allowed. Competitors will choose their partners, arrange for their opponents and also their starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB EVENT

Leading Riders Will Take Part in Race at Rithet's Farm on Monday

The Victoria Motorcycle Club will stage an Empire Day road race at Rithet's Farm, Royal Oak, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, club officials announced today. With the trail shaped after the famous and difficult Isle of Man T-T course, including stiff uphill and downhill grades and thrilling hairpin curves, the events should provide plenty of excitement for spectators.

The programme includes half-mile speed events with three machines in a heat. The fastest time in the speed events made so far is fifty-six seconds. This record is held by Reg

Feller's Arm Is Still Sore

Washington, May 21.—Manager Steve O'Neill announced today that Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' youthful strikeout king, would do no further pitching on the club's current eastern trip which ends May 27.

O'Neill's announcement came after Feller reported his "million-dollar" right arm felt weak and that some trace of soreness remained.

Shanks and Victor Stevens. A number of other events are on the programme.

Following are some of the entries: P. Norrington, B. Carmichael, B. Stevens, Reg Shanks, Frank Baylis, Frank Thomas, Charlie Davies and Phil Leahy. It will be possible for spectators to sit in their cars and watch the events.

MARTIN, SMITH IN MAT BOUT

Will Meet on Special Event of Wrestling Card Tomorrow Evening

A little contrast will be thrown into the holiday wrestling card at the Tillium gym tomorrow night when that barrel of noise from the skyscraper town of New York, "Bellowsing Bull" Martin will match holds with "Silent" Smith, recent arrival on the Pacific Coast, in the special event.

When it comes to clowning Martin is right in there together with a bag of original rough stuff which always goes over in a big way with wrestling fans.

"Silent" Smith, deaf and dumb wrestler, will be making his first local appearance. He has entered the ring in Portland, Seattle and other Pacific Coast points, and his matches are always crowd pleasers.

The five round semi-windup will feature Hannam Singh and Ferio Freeman, 265 pound New Yorker. This match shows promise of being one of the leading events on the card and the East Indian should give Freeman an exciting evening.

Gus "The Goat" Sonnenberg, Bostonian, who knocked over the heavyweight championship at the expense of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, will take on Donald Clarke, Boston, in the main event of eight ten minute rounds.

Two local midgets will perform in the opener, which is billed to get under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Woman Scout Great Success

Mrs. Roy Sargent, Chicago White Sox, Has Located Several Leading Major League Players

McKinney, Tex., May 21.—Baseball's only woman scout, Mrs. Roy Sargent, laid aside her sock darning today to tell of "her boys."

With thirteen seasons of combing the minors for the Chicago White Sox behind her, she has sent many a star to the Windy City.

Luke Appling, the 1936 batting champ, was her find. Zeke Bonura, slugging first sacker, another. And then, there's Monte Stratton, Rip Radcliffe, Johnny Whitehead and Vern Kennedy.

The warm spot in Mrs. Sargent's heart belongs to Stratton, lean six-foot five-inch twirler with two shut-outs on his record already this year. Just a boy of nineteen in overall when found, Stratton was a frequent visitor at her home and was most adept at lifting Mrs. Sargent's gingerbread cookies from the jar. She remembered.

Most interesting of all her "boys" however, was Art Shires because he was husky, aggressive and could hit the ball a mile," she said.

"But I guess Shires carried aggressiveness a little too far."

Cronin Leads Major Batters
Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox celebrated his return to active duty yesterday by taking the lead in baseball's "Big Six" in hitting. Injured by a thrown ball a few days ago, Cronin got back into the batting order yesterday to hit three-for-five, boosting his average ten points to .447.

Standings of the leaders (first three in each league):

New York—Jesse James, 188, Hollywood, Calif., pinned Gino Martinelli, 193, Italy, 36.08.

Washington — Ernie Dusek, 228, Omaha, Neb., threw Wee Willie Davis, 265, West Virginia, 33.00.

Columbus, O. — Charlie "Midget" Fischer, defeated Frank Wolff, Australia, 68.17, light-heavyweights.

NEW METHOD WIN THIRD STRAIGHT

Frank Shandley ordered Comerford from the hillcock and "Chuck" Turner came on the mound for heavy duty. Rushed in to work against odds.

Turner was unable to hold the Longshoremen and before the session terminated four runners crossed the plate to boost the freight workers into the lead for the first time.

Kents fought their way back into the lead again in the ninth when their batters brought in a pair of runs. The score stood 10 to 9 for Kents. When the Longshoremen came up for their batting session it was to drive out knocks to bring home two runners, and win by a lone run.

Score by innings:

Kents ..... 000001012—10

Longshoremen ..... 100010342—11

Batteries: Comerford, Turner and Caddell; Bonner, Tesky and McBride.

The second-place Bruins came through with 10 to 2 win over James Island at Sidney. Bruins' batters nipped Devlin, Islanders' pitcher, for eighteen hits, including a home run and a pair of doubles.

Score by innings:

EDUCATION IS SESSION TOPIC

Closer Co-operation of Church and Schools Urged at United Conference

Religious education held the spotlight at this morning's session of the annual meeting of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada in Metropolitan Church, with the need for closer co-operation between the church proper and the various church educational organizations as one of the main points put forward.

Special interest was added to the discussion by the fact that the newly-elected president of the conference, Dr. Willard A. Brewing of Vancouver, while in Toronto twenty years ago inaugurated daily vacation schools in Canada, and is, referred to as "the grandfather of the Bible schools in Canada."

The schools which he instituted in the Dominion, copied from a pattern shaped previously by a Canadian minister in New York, unite students, young children from poor districts and vacant churches.

The report of the Christian education committee of the conference was presented by Rev. Gordon Hacker.

HIGHER STANDARD URGED
Dr. Brewing, commenting briefly on the report, suggested the church should strive to raise the standard of its teaching to bring its schools up to the high standard shown by such secular educational organizations as the night schools.

Special attention should be given to adult education in the young men's brackets, between twenty-five and thirty-five years, said Miss Anne Fountain, Vancouver, one of the speakers in the discussion. It was on this age group that the strength of the church in the future as well as the present depended. She believed teaching of this type was not as vital and effective as it might be.

Miss Fountain suggested that much of the apathy among churchgoers was due to lack of knowledge of the sort that adult classes could supply.

Rev. R. W. Hibbert, Vancouver, spoke on educational evangelism, pointing to it as a phase of education which was still solely the church's in spite of the advances in the matters of culture and leisure time occupation shown in the new provincial curriculum.

Other speakers in this discussion were Rev. C. M. McGillivray, Revelstoke, and Rev. W. E. Galloway, Vancouver.

Dr. E. D. Braden, Vancouver, gave a summary of the year's work at the Columbian College.

The report of the historical committee, compiled by Rev. John T. Goodfellow of Princeton and presented by Rev. A. E. Roberts, Vancouver, stressed the need for congregations to keep more accurate records of their history and activities.

Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, D.D., Toronto, secretary of the General Council of the United Church, conducted the devotional service at the beginning of the session.

Personal calls for information at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau during April numbered 820, compared with 664 in the same period last year.

CITY GRANTS ARE CITED

Alderman W. T. Straith Corrects Finance Chairman on Government Aid

The assertion by Alderman J. D. Hunter, Conservative candidate, that the provincial government's assistance last session to Victoria amounted to only $1,500 in the year was sharply challenged by Alderman W. T. Straith, James Douglas School last night.

"I am surprised to find that Ald. Hunter, who is chairman of the city council's finance committee, so far out in his figures," said Alderman Straith.

"As a matter of fact, taking the adjustments over the last three years, Victoria today is receiving increased grants of the amount he mentioned every third day in the year."

Alderman Straith went into the detail of the question. At the first session of the present government school grants were restored to a total of $600,000, of which approximately 10 per cent, or $60,000 came to Victoria, he said. In 1935 the government increased its contribution to relief from 66 2/3 per cent to 80 per cent which amounted, in one year, to roughly $52,000 in Victoria. Finally at the last session the social service charges had been removed to a certain extent and from this, in a full year, Victoria would be benefited approximately $60,000. This was a total relief in the last three years of approximately $180,000, nearly five mills on the tax rate, Alderman Straith declared.

The speaker followed up this point by expressing amazement of Conservative criticism of government expenditure on Vancouver Island. As president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island for several years, he had watched these matters closely. It was difficult to understand the Conservative attitude of ridiculing the government's $25,000 grant to the Victoria Jubilee, of its allocation of $100,000 for the West Coast Road and of its road expenditure on the Malahat Drive which had improved that highway to a standard never achieved before.

M. B. Jackson, K.C., gave an address reviewing Liberal principles and declared the Conservative record was hardly one to give the people confidence. British Columbia had been a Conservative government in the last twenty-five years and each one had been swept out of office leaving the province in a desperate financial position. Each time the Liberals had come in and straightened out the mess, he said.

H. A. Beckwith analyzed the government's educational programme, referring particularly to recent changes such as the new curriculum, the increase in school libraries, the raising of standards at the normal schools to improve teaching, the widening of correspondence schools and the inauguration of physical and recreational training.

A. B. MacNeill was chairman, mentioning that the other Liberal candidates, Byron Johnson and Mrs. Nancy Hodges were addressing a Liberal meeting in Ladysmith and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, speaking on the mainland.

Fire of unknown origin yesterday evening destroyed the home of Basil Horsfall, well-known musical conductor, located on the Island Highway near Cobble Hill, twenty-five miles from Victoria.

The loss was estimated at $4,000. According to advices received here the home was not occupied at the time of the fire and was practically demolished before any attempt could be made to save the belongings it contained.

The maid left the house shortly before 9 o'clock and when she returned fifteen minutes later the building was in flames.

Among personal belongings in the house were a grand piano and a number of musical compositions and operatic scores of Mr. Horsfall's, as well as some valuable antiques.

WATER WORKS MEN GREETED

Mayor Welcomes Convention Here; Engineer Says Local Pressure in Danger

"There is nothing more vital to the health of a city, nothing more necessary to its growth, than an abundant supply of pure water. The importance of our work in maintaining such supplies is second to none," Mayor Andrew McGavin stated as he extended an official welcome to delegates to the tenth annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest section, American Water Works Association in the Empress Hotel today.

His brief address, extending official greetings to the delegates, preceded a busy morning session during which papers were presented by N. C. Janssen of the N. C. Janssen Dilling Company, Seattle, on "Underground Water Resources of Washington," and by G. M. Irwin, city engineer and water commissioner, "The Water Supply System of Victoria."

Mayor McGavin, appearing in the dual capacity of chief magistrate and chairman of the Victoria Water Board, extended official greetings and wished the convention every success in its deliberations. He hoped the leisure time of the delegates would be amply filled by the enjoyable entertainment features arranged by the city committee in charge of local arrangements.

APPEALING COURTESIES
A. H. Labsap, Longview, Washington, chairman of the convention, thanked the mayor and Alderman John A. Worthington, G. M. Irwin and other Victoria officials for the courtesies extended to the convention. It was of particular value to men in the water works field to gather and to see what other experts were doing. He was certain, he said, the deliberations of the meeting, the second of the section in Canada, would be of exceptional value.

Immediately following his reply to the mayor, Mr. Janssen was called upon to present his paper on the "Underground Water Resources of Washington." The treatise was followed by discussion over which R. G. Tyler, head of the Department of Civil Engineering, University of Washington, presided.

In his paper, G. M. Irwin presented a description of Victoria's two water supply systems. Sooke and Goldstream, explaining the manner in which they were connected and various physical features.

PRESSURE IN DANGER
He told the convention city pressure would fall in the future, owing to the increased draw-off. When requirements of an increased population reached 10,500,000 gallons a day, an increase of about 10 per cent over present, the heaviest demand had to be met. The city would have to be spent on the supply or distribution systems, or lawn and boulevard watering would have to be curtailed.

The total leakage in the supply pipes below Humpback and Japan Gulch reservoirs and in the distribution system had been decreased from 28 per cent in 1934 to 21 per cent in 1936, he said. Ernest MacDonald, city water work superintendent, led the discussion on Mr. Irwin's paper.

Following the luncheon interval, the convention was scheduled to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock to hear several more papers and continue discussions. A special dinner and entertainment will start at 7 o'clock in the evening.

NAME OFFICERS
Last night M. H. McGuire, public utilities manager at McMinville, Oregon, was elevated to the chairmanship of the section. N. A. Gilman, water superintendent at Yakima, was made vice-chairman, and R. E. Koon, Portland engineer, and Harold Fowler, Seattle, consulting engineer, trustees. Fred Merryfield, professor of sanitary engineering at Oregon State College, Corvallis, was returned as secretary.

Last night William Hughes, Lewiston, national director of the association, was appointed to represent the body at the water works convention in Buffalo and a committee was struck to investigate the licensing of water works operators and to deal with affiliate memberships.

Mrs. Andrew McGavin was hostess to wives of visiting delegates at the Hudson's Bay Company dining-room at lunch today.

Mounting Debt Is Criticized

Leslie F. Osborne, Conservative candidate in Saanich, was joined on the platform at Marigold Hall last night by Dr. Frank P. Patterson, the Conservative leader, and Gordon A. Cameron of Victoria.

Dr. Patterson's address in Saanich preceded his appearance at a Conservative rally in Victoria, where his remarks were along similar lines.

Mr. Osborne, touching on various issues, declared the government had failed in its responsibility to protect the public in connection with the Hedley Amalgamated Gold Mines Ltd. stock crash. If it had taken notice of the Richmond report last year a good deal, at least, of the losses would have been averted, he said.

He criticized debt increases by the government. If the debt is allowed to mount at the present rate it will be $285,000,000 by 1950, he asserted.

Mr. Osborne made a plea for proper conservation of forest resources, a matter of particular interest to Vancouver Island, he said.

He said the operation of the Marketing Act should be amended to make it fair to producer and consumer alike.

Mr. Cameron, in his supporting speech, reviewed the fifteen planks of the Conservative platform.

A meeting of the Guild of Health will be held on Thursday, May 27, in the Memorial Hall chapel at 8 o'clock. Dr. Rowe will address the meeting.

Sunday Midnight

"Love in the headlines" comprises the theme of RKO Radio's new Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers musical, "Shall We Dance," which will be shown at a special matinee at the Capitol Theatre starting Sunday midnight.

Presenting the two stars in the roles of a famous ballet dancer and a noted revue artiste, the story complications revolve around their rumored marriage, with the newspaper accounts of the affair playing an important part in the work-out of the story.

Edward Everett Horton, Eric Blore, Jerome Cowan, Ketti Gallian, William Brisbane and Harriet Hector, America's leading ballerina, head the featured cast in the film, which is said to be the finest and most entertaining of the Astaire-Rogers offerings.

OAK BAY THEATRE

One of the most beautiful and powerful love stories the screen has ever shown is now at the Oak Bay Theatre in "Beloved Enemy," the new Samuel Goldwyn picture starring Merle Oberon and Brian Aherne.

Set against the seething background of Dublin in 1921, with excursions into the Irish countryside and to England, "Beloved Enemy" offers
Merle her greatest opportunity as Lady Helen Drummond, the lovely English girl who accompanies her father, Lord Athleigh, to Ireland to investigate the secret activities of the Irish leaders.

In Gay Comedy at Dominion

Here are James Finlayson and Sharron Lynne, with Laurel and Hardy in a scene from "Way Out West," which is now the feature attraction at the Dominion Theatre.

LAUREL, HARDY
AT DOMINION

Two Popular Comedians
Have Leading Roles in New Picture "Way Out West"

Those two famous comedians,
Laurel and Hardy open at the Dominion Theatre this afternoon in their first western picture, "Way Out West."

This picture has a tuneful musical background, reminiscent of the gay nineties. Sharon Lynne, cleverly carrying the feminine lead is impressive as the singing nightingale and has a most amusing old-time girl chorus around her.

The Avalon Four, singers and instrumentalists, score a hit with their number, which is one of the highlights of the picture.

James Finlayson, always a favorite comic with Laurel and Hardy, gives an outstanding performance and special mention is made by Rosina Lawrence and Stanley Fields of the fine supporting cast.

Comedy Drama
At the Atlas

"You're in the Army Now," Stars Wallace Ford and Ann Lee in Leading Roles

Raoul Walsh's latest directorial effort, "You're in the Army Now," a fast-moving comedy drama starring Wallace Ford and Anna Lee, and released by Gaumont is at the Atlas Theatre today, and offers moviegoers first rate entertainment and an all-around comedy treat. Scripted by Lester Samuels and Ralph Bettinson, the picture crackles with smart dialogue, amusing situations and a plot which highlights love and adventure in some of the world's gayest outposts.

Radio Stars In Capitol Feature

The famous Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie feud is entertainment deluxe in "Wake Up and Live," which will open at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday, but the performance of hitherto almost unknown Jack Haley, in the starring role, puts everything else slightly in the shade.

This vehicle definitely puts Haley in the star class. He has a great singing voice and is one of the outstanding screen comedians.

All of his diversified talents are made excellent use of in "Wake Up and Live."

Alice Faye, Ned Sparks and Paty Kelly are among the members of the great supporting cast.

The story concerns the Winchell-Bernie feud, which culminates in an exciting and comical race between the two to find a phantom singer who accidentally made his debut on Bernie's night club programme.

The singer is Haley, a vaudeville star with mite-fright, who is helped to overcome his handicap by Alice Faye.

Forest Fires
Are Reported

While cool weather in the coastal region has prevented any serious forest fires so far this year, numerous outbreaks have been reported in the interior and northern sections of the province, according to the weekly bulletin of the B.C. Forest branch issued today.

The bulletin shows thirty-one fires to date in the Fort George district, twenty-six in the Kamloops area and thirty-three in Nelson, with only nine in the Vancouver forest district and eight in the Prince Rupert section.
A total of 107 fires throughout the province as compared with fifty-seven at this time last year. Cool and rainy or showery weather was general at the end of the week.

Five Men Work Without Orders

Williams Lake, B.C., May 21.—Five men, refused work on a Public Works Department road project at Quessall Forks, sixty-five miles from here, worked anyway, despite the protests of the foreman, it was reported here today.

The foreman could find work for only eighteen, but the rejected men joined the other road-builders, took orders from themselves, and at the end of the week sent in their time for payment.

Rattlesnakes and Hopi Indians

Rattlesnakes are among the most feared of snakes. They are found in many parts of our continent, and their bite is known to be deadly. Unless quick action is taken to remove the poison, it will spread through the blood system, and may cause death.

Hopi snake dancer with rattlesnake outline below.

If we are walking through the woods, or climbing a mountain, and see or hear a rattler, we are likely to do some quick moving in the other direction. The snake coils its body, shakes its rattle and hisses. If a person has gone too close, there is almost sure to be a sudden, fast and the snake's fangs may sink into his flesh. The fangs are long, hollow teeth, one pair in the upper jaw. They are tubes, and through them flows venom from the poison sacs.

Yes, rattlesnakes are dangerous, but there are Indians in Arizona who dare to handle them and who seldom suffer harm from them. I am thinking of the Hopi tribesmen who take part in the snake dance.

In several villages of northern Arizona live about 2,000 Hopi men, women and children. In the late summer, they hold the snake dance. Their medicine men tell the Indians that the dance will help bring enough rain for their crops.

Here is an account of a very sacred part of a snake dance at Oraibi, leading Hopi village:

Scores of men and boys marched in divisions. One group mounted a holy rock and stayed there. The other group broke into pairs. Two by two, and arm-in-arm, they pranced around the holy rock, making motions as though they were planting corn. Meanwhile those on the rock had broken into a chant. They were uttering a prayer while the others danced.

The dancers went away, then came back again. This time, half of them had snakes in their hands—or clasped in their mouths! The men with eagle-wands, the men with eagle-wands poked them toward the serpents, and this helped keep the snakes busy biting at the wands. Just the same, I'm sure none of us would have cared to be that close to a rattlesnake!

After dancing with the snakes for some time, the men dropped them on the ground. Then women stepped forward and dumped baskets of cornmeal on the reptiles.

Next the men who had been carrying eagle-wands reached down and each one picked up a snake, and walked toward the rock. The boys on the rock, as well as the men, grasped the serpents.

The dance lasted about three-quarters of an hour, and about 100 snakes were used. At the end, the men and boys carried the snakes in their hands down a steep slope and set them free.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1937

Except in the morning adverse planetary aspects rule strongly today, according to astrology. It is a most unfortunate way under which to lend money or to proffer any sort of aid to friends.

The stars smile on contracts for the future and it is wise to sign them today. Business should be dropped at noon. For this is a rule under which rest and recreation are imperative.

Newspapers and periodicals continue under a sign mingling for success and profit. Advertising should be particularly effective while this configuration continues.

From overseas will come sensational rumors, but they may serve to put this country on guard. Americans again are warned against involving the United States in trouble.

There is a prediction that because of gross injustice and persecution of certain individuals and peoples, retribution will affect all Europe. Again the innocent will suffer along with the guilty.

Many sudden deaths are forecast. The young are cautioned against dangerously strenuous athletic activity. Girls will regret very severe physical exertion under this planetary government.

Holland now may experience difficulties affecting the royal family. A political

Men New Gold-Diggers Dorothy Dix Many Want To Marry Money

USUALLY every spring some inquiring soul always sends around a questionnaire to the various colleges asking men students what qualities they desire in their wives; whether they prefer them tall or short, blonde or brunette, highbrow or dumb, domestic or arty, etc.

This season the replies have shown the usual divergences of taste as to looks, mentality and disposition in girls, but for the first time in my memory a new demand has been made upon the prospective brides by an amazingly large number of young men. They ask that their wives shall possess not only pulchritude and amiability and a knowledge of how to cook, but money.

Apparently golden charms outweigh all other charms in the estimation of these modern Romeos. For a big percentage of them state in no uncertain terms that the girl of their preference "must have a wealthy father." "Must have property in her own right." "Must be a rich orphan, or widow whose husband left her a good estate."

Shocking as this is to us old-timers who are still sentimental, worse is yet to follow. For in a recent edition of a daily paper, a young man who described himself as handsome, age twenty-five, college-bred, traveled, a linguist and a good entertainer, advertised for a wife, stating that he would marry any woman who was financially able to support him in a comfortable manner.

Putting these two straws together, which seems to show which way the winds of men's minds are blowing, gives us pause for thought and makes us wonder if the youths of today are growing mercenary. Are they substituting cold cash for hot romance and becoming fortune hunters? Are they changing from the stalwart oak into clinging vines? And is the chief allure that any woman can have for them their ability to support them in the style in which their parents have done?

Let us hope and pray not, and that these young men who announce themselves as being willing to profane marriage by marrying for money, whom we are, and who offer to sell themselves to any woman for their board and keep are not as numerous as they seem. For there is nothing in nature more contemptible than the male parasite.

To the lad who has had no real experience of life it seems that the easiest way to get a fortune is to marry it, but in this he is mistaken. No man earns his cakes and ale by such hard labor as the one who has to keep a rich wife appeased and thinking he is worth the price she paid for him.

No work could possibly be harder or more distasteful or more wearisome to a man than to have to act perpetually the part of a lover to a wife for whom he felt no affection whatever, who bored him and who roused in him only the resentment that we all feel toward those on whom we are dependent. Think of having to get your cigarette money by kissing an elderly wife or flattering a homely one! Splitting rails is an easy chore beside it.

Marrying for money is not the good thing that optimistic boys believe it to be. They think that as soon as they lead the helpless from the altar she will turn over all of her fortune to them and that thereafter they will lead the life of a Riley. But it very seldom happens that way. The one thing that a rich girl is taught from her cradle up is to suspect the motives of men, and particularly those of a husband.

Hence, as a general thing the woman with money not only hangs on to her pocketbook with both hands, but she also keeps the lock closed tight so her husband cannot get his fingers into it. She will let him live in her house, eat her food and ride in her cars, and she will take him traveling with her, but she will dole out of his pocket money to him with a niggardly hand and see to it that he doesn't get enough to make him worth the attention of glamorous gold-diggers.

The poor husbands of rich wives are mostly nothing but upper servants who run errands, audit bills, row with chauffeurs, stand off tradesmen, take fido to the veterinary, mix cocktails and take on the bobs at parties and act as gigolos and who get less pay for all of their multitudinous services than they would if they were hired lackeys.

No, boys, believe me, the hardest-earned money a man ever gets is by marrying for it, and this doesn't include his self-respect or the respect of those who know him that he loses. Try some other get-rich-quick scheme.

... till she dried her hands on a Pearl-washed towel!

CLOTHES washed with ordinary bar soaps look dull against the dazzling whiteness that Pearl White Naptha gives. And actual tests by housewives proved that Pearl makes clothes whiter with only a few minutes light rubbing. For the rich Pearl suds loosen dirt that hard rubbing with ordinary soaps cannot budge. They are so full of washing power that they just float dirt out.

Tests also proved that Pearl soap gives a quicker lather that stands up longer—that Pearl is more economical—that it makes clothes smell sweeter. Pearl suds proved kinder to the hands, too. So be sure to ask for Pearl White Naptha Soap. You'll have a dazzling white wash and an easy washday.

Waterfront Notes

Capt. F. R. MacFarlane returned to the command of the tugboat Snomish this morning after spending the last month in the Jubilee Hospital, recovering from injuries sustained when he fell thirty-five feet, between two barges, into the harbor at Port Alberni.

The Snomish left this morning for Alberni after going into Esquimalt Harbor to take in tow the barge Riverside.

Conversion of the old sailing ship Star of Holland into the barge Homebound is nearly completed alongside the Island Tug and Barge Company's wharf in the Inner Harbor. When she is finished her place will be taken by the Forest Friend, which will also be converted into a barge.

Father Bernard Hubbard, S.J., "the Glacier Priest," is off on another of his exploration trips to Alaska. With a party of fellow adventurers, he sailed from Seattle this morning by the United States coastguard cutter Northland. Father Hubbard is well-known in Victoria, having been a frequent visitor, although he has not been here in the last two or three years.

The veteran Ss. Princess Victoria, one of the oldest passenger ships in service on the coast, is being groomed for another busy season. She is now in the Inner Harbor for overhaul, and shortly will start her excursion work between coast ports. Her present schedule shows she will be busy nearly every day of the week between June and September.

Thomas Skinner, eighty-one, formerly chief engineer of the Alaska steamer Victoria and veteran of trans-Pacific steamers, who often called at Victoria in days gone by, died at his home in Tacoma this week. He was born in Scotland and came to the Northwest in 1910.

After annual general overhaul, the Dominion Government's lighthouse tender Estevan left Esquimalt Harbor yesterday afternoon and returned to her berth in the Inner Harbor. She will leave shortly to tow the Sand Head Lightship from her position off the mouth of the Fraser River, to Victoria for alterations and repairs.

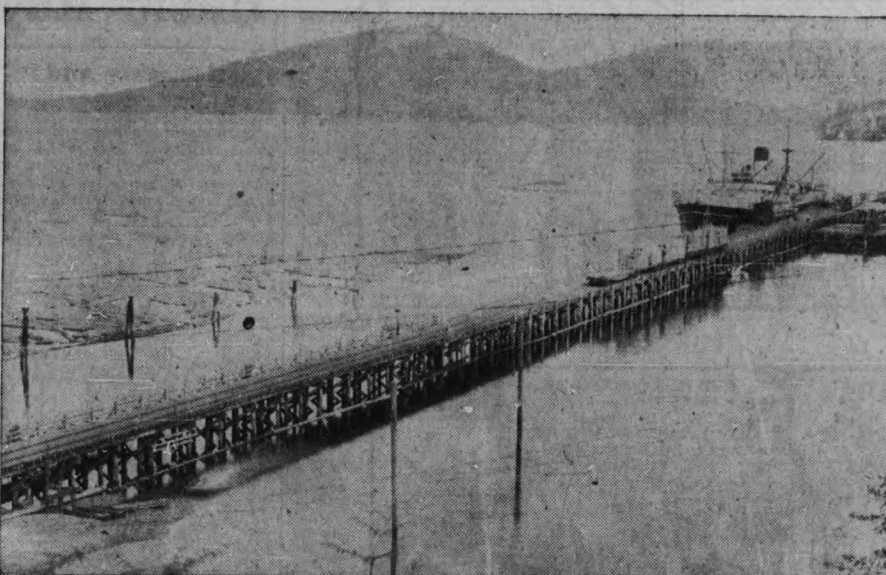

W. M. Allan, local agent for the American Mail Line, was advised this morning the Ss. President McKinley had been delayed in sailing from Yokohama and will not arrive here until next Thursday, twenty-four hours behind schedule.

Tomorrow afternoon the Ss. President Jefferson will sail from Victoria for the Orient with a good list of passengers, including many tourists.

Liner Lists at Dock in London

London, May 21.—The Cunard White Star liner Ascania, lying at Surrey Commercial Dock, suddenly listed to an angle of thirty degrees early yesterday, her forepart crashing against the quay.

Two hundred men engaged in unloading grain were thrown from their feet. Eight of them, in No. 5 hold, barely missed being buried in an avalanche of grain.

All hands worked feverishly to right the ship. The list was caused by shifting grain and resulted in slight damage to the grain elevator pipes. The ship's return schedule will not be affected. She left Montreal May 7 and arrived here May 17.

Former Shipping
Executive Dies

New York, May 21.—Edward Eyre, former president of W. R. Grace and Company, shippers and traders, died yesterday in London at the age of eighty-six, the company announced yesterday.

He was born in Ireland.

Surviving are a widow and six children, one of them Alice, Countess of Gainsborough.

Vancouver Shipping

Vancouver, May 21.—Members of the National Harbors Board conferred yesterday with H. A. Stevenson, vice-president of the Chamber of Shipping; Captain Thomas Rippon, chairman of the coastwise conference of the Merchants' Exchange; Lloyd B. Gove, head of the Towboat Owners' Association; and J. H. Hamilton, secretary of all three organizations.

Matters under consideration were: Fog signal at False Creek entrance; barring of salmon fishing at entrance to harbor; removal of certain shoals in First Narrows; amendment of harbor by-law to provide safety appliances at log-load berths; Amendment to Second Narrows bridge bylaws permitting harbor master to allow passage of more than ten sections of logs in a raft, if accompanied by additional tug. Replacement of present lights at Second Narrows bridge. Engineers are studying the use of sodium lights, which are operated with great success in San Francisco.

The Provincial Department of Labor has refused to intervene in the salmon price negotiations between operators and the fishermen's joint committee, J. Gavin, secretary of the committee, said yesterday.

Hon. A. Dunstan, premier of Victoria, Australia, will arrive with his wife in Vancouver, June 7, to sail for home June 9 on the liner Niagara.

Japanese Training
Ship on B.C. Coast

Prince Rupert, May 21.—The Japanese merchant marine training ship Kalwo Maru will visit this northern British Columbia port on or around June 25, George Kitagawa, secretary of the Prince Rupert Japanese Association, announced yesterday.

Kitagawa said he had been informed from Japan that the four-masted auxiliary bark would remain here until July 3 when she will sail for Hawaii en route to her base at Tokyo.

Prince Rupert will be the only point of call in British Columbia for the Kalwo Maru, which visited Vancouver in the summer of 1935.

The Kalwo Maru carries a personnel of 113 officers and cadets. She was built by Kawasaki Dockyard Company Limited at Kobe in 1930 for the Japanese government educational department. Powered by oil engines, she is 260 feet long, 42 feet in beam and 25.7 feet deep.

How CHEVROLET'S VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE "Steps-Up" Performance... Yet Saves You Money

The Complete Car - Completely New

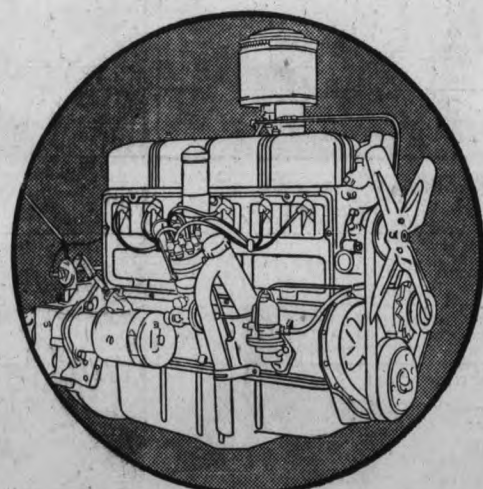

YOU hear Chevrolet owners mentioning gasoline economy in terms of 25 and more miles per gallon. You hear others enthusing over Chevrolet "pick-up", pep, performance.

These people are not boasting, they're just telling the facts. And here's why: Chevrolet is a more economical car because Chevrolet is the only car in its class with a Valve-in-Head Engine.

The great advantage is, a Valve-in-Head Engine gets as much as 10% more power out of every gallon of fuel than any other type. With the result that gasoline does more work, goes farther, costs you less per mile.

And because the Valve-in-Head Engine gives premium power and performance for the gas used, you find this type in many a costly motor car—in all airplanes, racing cars and speedboats that hold outstanding records.

Drive a Chevrolet for performance with economy... and the matchless all around satisfaction of Hydraulic Brakes—Unisteel Turret Top Body by Fisher—Knee-Action gliding ride (on Master De Luxe models) and Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. No other car priced so low has them all! Low Monthly Payments on the General Motors Instalment Plan.
